

CHIEF ROTH FILES CHARGES ON FIRE CODE

Man Accused of Starting Blaze in Borough Limits

WARRANT IS EXPECTED TO BE SERVED TODAY

Good Will Fire company Chief Robert Roth filed charges against a man blamed for starting a field fire that firemen put out yesterday morning.

Roth charged John Brooks, who lives on a tract of land near Belmont avenue, with violating the borough fire code and with interfering with the firemen in the performance of their duty.

He filed the information with Justice of the Peace Robert H. Yerger, of the Sixth ward, who said last night he expected the warrant would be served today.

Roth led the Good Wills in putting out a brush fire that swept close to the home of Chester Yurgiewicz, 548 Belmont avenue, near Reynolds avenue.

IN STARTING a brush fire in the borough limits, Roth said, Brooks was violating the borough fire code, which forbids setting fires to burn over brush without getting permission of the fire chief.

While he was trying to learn who started the fire, and why, Roth said, Brooks became abusive and unco-operative.

The Goodies' chief radioed for a police car. Sgt. Daniel J. Linton answered the call and advised Roth that the swearing out of a warrant was the proper procedure.

Good Will crewmen, who brought a pumper, emergency truck and ambulance, put out the fire with a booster line and portable tanks.

The fine for starting fires improperly is a maximum of $100.

First 18 Homes Slated for Razing Now Stand Vacant

The 18 Hilldale homes slated to be razed in the first phase of the housing project's demolition now stand vacant. The next step in erasing the 11-year-old "temporary" project is up to Washington.

That's what Edmund J. Koser, executive secretary of the Montgomery County Housing authority, reported last night.

"All of the families have moved out of the 18 buildings," he said. The next step is awarding of contracts for demolition.

"That comes from Washington and, as far as I've heard, it hasn't even been advertised," Koser said.

THE 18 BUILDINGS are ten one-story and eight two-story structures marked for destruction by a Public Housing administration directive early this year. The order barred new families from entering Hilldale after the past March 15 and set a June 30, 1954 deadline for removing the entire project.

"There's no question that the deadline will be met," Koser said, "but there's no way of telling just when demolition will start. That's up to Washington and I haven't heard from them."

As to the rest of the project, "There are 51 families left in the other buildings," he said. "They're staying on simply until they can find something else."

"It's all on a temporary basis. I don't know when they'll be moved out. There might be six moving out tomorrow."

POINTING TO the difference in service, Koser said, "we give them much less than we did in the old days. We're not allowed to buy anything for the homes—things like window shades or anything like that. We can't renovate any of the apartments either."

"I think it'll just be a gradual

Quilt Is 104 Years Old

"You name it — we've got it." This could be the motto of The Mercury's obliging and resourceful readers, and here are two such readers. Mrs. Horace Prizer and her daughter, Mrs. James Leonard Fitzpatrick, both of 294 West Main street, with a 104-year-old quilt that helps carry out the motto.

A brief item in yesterday's Mercury mentioned that a new quilt on an unusual quilt might win a prize. This was mentioned as a "for instance," with no conviction that a new, worthy quilt was even in existence.

But Mrs. Prizer was on the phone bright and early, with a report on this quilt, which despite its 104 years, still is "in A-1 condition."

Mrs. Prizer knows how old it is because of big labels woven onto corners of the all-wool quilt. The labels say that Samuel Gilbert, of Trappe, made it in 1849 for Sarah Crisp, Collegeville.

After Miss Crisp's death, it was handed along to Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

Thieves Get $500 at Theater; Burglaries Reach One-a-Week

Burglars who apparently hid in the Strand theater, High and Charlotte streets, after the late show Sunday night, broke open the safe and made off with more than $500 in cash, it was discovered yesterday morning.

The safe-cracking kept the latest Pottstown's annual series of burglary outbreaks going at the rate of more than one a week.

In the past five weeks, six burglaries have been discovered in the borough, and a seventh one just past the borough line. Of the seven, three have included attacks on safes.

One of the seven was solved on information supplied by Reading State police to Scranton police.

THE STRAND theater burglary also had the distinction of being both the first major burglary of a Pottstown theater in recent years, and the biggest haul of cash made in Pottstown since the past May 8, when $1300 in cash was among the loot discovered taken from Cates and Becker incorporated, West High street.

This latest outbreak, if it continues, would rival the biggest previous outbreaks—that of the pre-

Christmas season of 1949, when major safe-crackings were a one-week occurrence, and that of early 1952, when there were 32 burglaries in four months.

Yesterday morning, Pottstown police Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler and Motor Patrolman Robert Scheidt learned that men, pretending to be moviegoers, apparently had been responsible for the looting.

What led them to the conclusion was a close check of all theater doors—a check that revealed that there had been no forcible entry anywhere.

POLICE theorized that the burglars had hidden in the movie until Edward Boyd, Strand manager, and Morris Willauer, assistant manager of the Strand and the Hippodrome, had locked the theater building, at 11:15 p. m.

Nothing was out of place then, they reported to police.

If the same burglars that did it at Concrete Company of America and Melbrooke Textiles incorporated the past week, then they have learned greatly from experience.

In contrast to the amateurish attempts at these places, where nothing was gotten, the Strand burglars did a neat job of knocking the dial off the safe, then knocking out the tumbler with "drift" pins, long metal rods even thinner than the holes for the tumblers.

Police discovered that $442 was taken from the safe's metal cash box, including $250 in bills. The thieves also got $38 in an envelope in the safe.

Election Contests Listed On Pages 14, 15 Today

Pottstown's voters will get a preview of what next month's election issues will be by turning to Pages 14 and 15 of today's Mercury.

On those pages are listed all of the county-wide contests for offices in the official election day proclamation.

Also listed are the special election questions and referendums that will be decided upon election day.

You'll also find your polling place listed among all the voting places in the county.

Take advantage of today's preview so you'll be well prepared to cast your ballot.

The safe is in the manager's office that faces the balcony lobby. They broke into it by ripping off a strip on the door frame then using a blade on the tongue of the lock.

TAKING the keys from the office with them, the burglars went downstairs, where they opened a softdrink machine, candy bar booth and ice-cream machine, getting more than $28 from them.

To get out, the thieves removed the big wooden bar on the inside of a stage door facing North Charlotte street, near Buttonwood alley.

TWO JP POSTS IN SOUCO SEEN AS PUZZLE

Three Candidates Are Vying for Positions

VOTERS TO BE ASKED TO CHOOSE TWO

A political powder keg is ready to explode in South Coventry township.

When voters go to the polls on Nov. 3, they will elect the township's first slate of two justices of the peace in history.

Three candidates, Samuel S. Morris, William S. Symons and James Boder, will vie for the two offices.

Numerous voters are puzzled over the need for two justices in South Coventry.

One complaining resident asserted, "Why there's hardly enough work for one."

But the official ballot will contain the names of three candidates.

The reason for the two justices has never been clarified with voters.

SYMONS, the incumbent justice, whom Republicans failed to renominate at their caucus this past February, wrote to the Chester county board of elections before the May 19 primary as secretary of the road board and stated there were two vacancies in the township for justice of the peace.

Because of this action Democrats and Republicans voted for two candidates and threw the primary results into the worst political muddle in township history.

Paul Loomis, president of the road board, asserted a day after the election, "I want to correct the impression we will elect two justices. I also want to correct the mistaken impression that we the board had requested two justices."

"I was one of those who questioned the ballot which read 'vote for two.' I spoke with other members of the board and they knew nothing of the change on the ballot."

Loomis pointed out Morris and Boder would be the official party candidates on the November ballot, and that Symons could run only as a sticker candidate in the Fall election.

But records show he was wrong. The ballot which township voters will receive when they enter the polls will include all three names, Morris, Republican candidate, Symons as Democratic and Republican candidate (he finished second in both the GOP and Democratic primary votes) and Boder, Democrat.

Either Loomis was shielding the board's true action on the Symons' letter or the incumbent justice wrote the letter to West Chester, without the board's permission, but under the signature of secretary of the board.

New Union Reported Signing Flagg Workers

The president of a new independent steel workers union claimed yesterday that it has signed up "more than 30 percent" of the workers of strikebound Stanley G. Flagg and company's Stowe plant, which has a CIO union.

Andrew Kondrath, international president of the Steel Workers federation, a union organized among Reading workers, said that when and if the federation gets 51 percent of the workers on its side, it will call for a National Labor Relations board election.

"We expect that within the next two weeks, we'll be ready to file a petition, at the rate the cards are coming in," Kondrath asserted.

If such an election were held, it would challenge the right of Local 2226, United Steel Workers (CIO) to continue representing the plant workers, who have been on strike over wage increases and other benefits since the past Aug. 1.

In the event that the new Steel

Workers federation 'got more votes than the CIO, it could become the collective bargaining agency for the plant.

KONDRATH said that the federation would call for an NLRB election "at any time that we have the 51 percent," regardless of whether the strike was still in progress.

The president of the new union said it has not made any concerted effort to lure Flagg workers away from the CIO. "We haven't issued any leaflets or letters of any kind," he declared.

"People have been coming into our office, asking us to intervene," he said. "We don't propose to intervene until we get more than a majority."

Kondrath said the new federation represents nearly 1000 workers at the Karl Liebknecht incorporated textile machinery plant in Reading; about 400 workers at Reading Tube corporation, and about 175 workers at Dick Brothers incorporated, also in Reading.

He was a sub-district director for the CIO Steelworkers when he withdrew to form the new federation, he reported. His federation, he maintained, is independent but "is not a company union." He noted that its headquarters are in the AFL building in Reading.

From 1949 to 1951, Kondrath was Democratic member of the State assembly, representing Reading.

Dump Fire Issue Will Be Aired at Meeting Tonight

Pottstown's combustible dump issue is expected to explode tonight in council chambers.

Meeting to determine responsibility of recent dump fires which have blanketed the East End with sheets of stinking black smoke will be council's fire, health and sanitation and finance committees, representatives from the borough's four fire companies, Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden, and Garbage Collector Donald E. Woodley.

At least 25 officials are expected to be on hand when the meeting convenes at 7:30 o'clock.

The discussion was called to produce a solution to the dump problem, a festering spot with East End taxpayers and industries for a number of years.

Burgess William A. Griffith has endorsed a plan sponsored by his political opponents.

The Burgess last night said he would support a program developed by Seventh Ward Councilman J. Wayne Knause to examine drunken drivers at no cost to the borough.

Knause, veteran chairman of council's finance committee, suggested the borough seek the aid of the Montgomery County Medical association to secure four physicians to co-operate with police in conducting sobriety tests.

He outlined his plan as a substitute to Griffith's suggestion to hire a police physician at an annual salary of $1000 per year.

Cohill Sounds Keynote as United Fund Reports Third of Goal Already Realized

By DICK LANGMAN
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The 1953 United Fund campaign is off and running, with more than one-third of the $182,000 goal already donated.

A dinner last night at the YMCA marked the official drive opening. John L. Cohill, assistant to the president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, sounded the keynote of the occasion when he told an enthusiastic audience of 150:

"When you believe in something, it isn't hard to sell, and that's the way of the United Fund drive."

Samuel Keiser and Charles R. Wylie, co-chairmen of the advance gifts committee, reported $74,450.50 donated to date in the 1953 drive. In the 1951, a total of $27,323 was collected through advance gifts, and the past year the figure was $51,777.

Howard W. Bartholemew, campaign chairman, commented, "With this start, it looks fairly safe that we will reach our goal."

FIRST reports on the campaign will be made at a meeting at the YMCA next Tuesday at 12:10 p. m., it was announced. The meeting originally was scheduled for Thursday.

Good Will Fire company Chief Robert Roth filed charges against a man blamed for starting a field fire that firemen put out yesterday morning.

The 1953 United Fund campaign is off and running, with more than one-third of the $182,000 goal already donated.

A dinner last night at the YMCA marked the official drive opening. John L. Cohill, assistant to the president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, sounded the keynote of the occasion when he told an enthusiastic audience of 150:

"When you believe in something, it isn't hard to sell, and that's the way of the United Fund drive."

Samuel Keiser and Charles R. Wylie, co-chairmen of the advance gifts committee, reported $74,450.50 donated to date in the 1953 drive. In the 1951, a total of $27,323 was collected through advance gifts, and the past year the figure was $51,777.

Howard W. Bartholemew, campaign chairman, commented, "With this start, it looks fairly safe that we will reach our goal."

FIRST reports on the campaign will be made at a meeting at the YMCA next Tuesday at 12:10 p. m., it was announced. The meeting originally was scheduled for Thursday.

This is the second year of the (Continued on Last Page)

The past week was a big one for newstipsters and this week is a big week for prizes.

Grand prize winner is Mrs. Clifford Minford, Schwenksville RD, who received her information second hand.

Mrs. Minford's tip was about the two elderly Krause brothers who live in a humble shack near Neiffer. The tip resulted in a top human interest story, for which Mrs. Minford will receive $5 in cash.

SECOND PRIZE of $3 goes to Leslie Rinehart, Pottstown RD 3, for a quick tip on the fact that a (Continued on Last Page)

23 Perish When Airplane Crashes Enroute to Falcon Dam Dedication

TALKS TO POWS ARE STALLED ON ISSUE OF FORCE

Two Delegates Reported To Have Quit Commission

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Oct. 20 (AP)—Angry Czech and Polish members reportedly walked out on the Neutral Nations Repatriation commission yesterday, a break that may portend collapse of Communist attempts to persuade 22,400 anti-Red prisoners to return home.

Reliable sources said the two Communist members stalked out when Swiss and Swedish members and the Indian chairman refused to force North Korean prisoners to attend persuasion sessions.

(The Swiss government backed up its delegate, announcing in Bern it had given him "categorical instructions that Switzerland seeks to avoid the use of force under all circumstances." It said use of force would violate the Geneva convention.)

A NNRC spokesman refused to confirm or deny the walkout report.

The depth of the break may be determined today. The commission has scheduled another meeting for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Monday Pottstown time). It remained to be seen whether the Czech and Polish members would attend.

All Red explanation sessions were cancelled today, as they were Monday. The Communists insisted on talking to 1000 North Korean prisoners. India said the prisoners could not be persuaded to attend.

Some Allied quarters said the Reds might be using the dispute over North Korean prisoners as an excuse to stall off for the time being and perhaps ultimately abandon their explanations.

These sources pointed out the Reds had been taking a propaganda beating so far. They have talked to 921 Chinese and only 19 agreed to return to Communism. It is believed the Communists had expected a much higher percentage.

Charges of Violence, Wild Parties Fly As John Wayne Divorce Suit Begins

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. John Wayne today charged her movie star husband with violence, drunkenness and attending wild parties as their bitterly contested divorce action began in Superior court.

She charged in a list of 22 specifications filed by her attorney: In Mexico after a party he called her obscene names, threw a glass of water in her face and doused her with rubbing alcohol. At a dinner party in Honolulu he became "belligerent" and threw her shawl in the mud, then later, after she left his hotel room, pounded on her door and called her vile names.

At another party in Mexico he picked her up by the foot and dragged her around the room. The former Esperanza Baur also accused him of coming home many hours late from a party at the home of actress Gail Russell.

Wayne denied this and countered with specifications of his own which accuse his wife of neglecting her household duties and falsely accusing him of striking her.

Wayne said that his wife's "excessive drinking" caused her to fall often and receive many bruises. Later, he said, she would tell friends that Wayne hit her.

Mrs. Wayne said her husband refused to take her to a party given after the completion of the movie,

The Government-owned C-47 plane left Monterey at 7 a. m. with a load of newsmen and officials for Falcon Dam for the meeting of Presidents.

The 23-passenger plane, completely wrecked on the side of a deep ravine, was sighted this afternoon 16 miles northeast of Monterey. There apparently were no survivors.

The National Fine Arts institute listed six male and seven woman dancers and three other persons of the Gloria Mestre ballet who were aboard. The dancers were to participate in the entertainment for the Presidents.

THE AIRLIFT carrying officials, entertainers and reporters to the dam had planes taking off every few minutes, and no full records were kept of who went in the plane.

The first parties to reach the scene said these were among the identified dead:

Carlos Violante, top diplomatic reporter for El Universal; Carlos Septien Garcia, editor of El Universal's weekly magazine; Raul Rojas and Miguel Espinosa of Noticias Continental, a newsreel; Francisco De P. Carriedo of Ovationes.

The pilot, Ruben Velasco, and the other two crew members were among the dead.

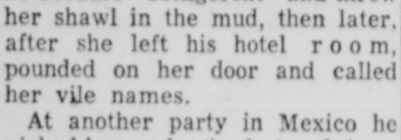

A reporter flying over the scene said there were indications the pilot had been flying in a haze and became trapped in a ravine. He said it looked like as though he was trying to climb out of the 400-foot deep ravine and almost made it, but crashed 30 feet from the top.

The nose of the plane appeared completely wrecked, and was partly burned.

Although only 16 miles from Monterey the crash scene is in rugged territory, difficult for rescuers to reach. There are no nearby roads.

THE NEWS that the plane wreckage, apparently burned, had been sighted from the air, was announced by Col. Radames Gaxiola, chief of staff of the Mexican Air Force and personal pilot to the Mexican President. He said the position was about 16 miles northeast of Monterey. There was no indication there were any survivors.

John Wayne

Mrs. John Wayne

Wayne said he invited his wife to the party but that she refused to attend.

He said he broke the glass in the living room out of necessity because he had no key and his wife refused to let him in.

Wayne, the screen's top box office star, is seeking a sizable cut in what he has called his wife's "fantastic" separate maintenance demands.

Both sides in the divorce proceedings have charged extreme cruelty. Wayne has insisted he offered his estranged wife more money "than she will ever get from any court." She's turned them all down, he said.

Mrs. Wayne, in a temporary alimony hearing the past May, asked for $9350 a month for separate maintenance. A judge decided she would have to get along on $1100 a month.

RED PLANE READIED FOR TESTS—The MIG-15 delivered to the US Air Force near Seoul the past month by a North Korean pilot is shown under guard at Okinawa as it was being readied for one of a series of tests by Air Force specialists to determine performance characteristics. ## REDS WILL MEET WITH US ENVOY ON TRUCE PLANS

Communists Want to Talk On Neutral Nation Issue

TOKYO, Tuesday, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Communists yesterday agreed to meet with a US envoy next Monday at Panmunjom to arrange for the Korean peace conference, originally scheduled to begin Oct. 28.

But in accepting, the Communists in a note broadcast by Peiping radio once more insisted on discussing which nations shall attend. This is the very issue that has balked all efforts to get the momentous sessions started.

A US spokesman at the United Nations said US Representative, Arthur Dean, would fly to Panmunjom later this week for the talks. Dean, special State department consultant, will be accompanied by a half dozen advisers and will pick up others in Tokyo and Seoul.

The United States, after consulting its Allies in the Korean war, sent the Communists a note the past week proposing a meeting at Panmunjom to select a time and place for the peace conference.

THE US NOTE said the Allies would be ready to discuss the question of neutrals attending the peace conference "to the extent consistent with" previous decisions made by the United Nations.

The Communists want Russia, India, Pakistan, Indonesia and Burma to attend. The United States would agree only to Russia, and then only if the Soviets were invited by Red China and North Korea. The United Nations backed the United States.

Thus it appeared likely that the Panmunjom meeting would bog down in an argument over the neutral nation question.

In yesterday's note, Premier Chou En-lai of Red China made clear he believed the question of neutral nations participating was more important than settling the time and place.

He said that his Government "deems that in these (Panmunjom) discussions there could be included the settlement of the place and time" but that "what is more essential, these discussions should settle the question of composition of the political (peace) conference."

25,000 US Employees Refuse to Pay Taxes, Stand on Legal Grounds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—Senator Williams (R-Del) said today an estimated 25,000 Federal employees are evading payment of income taxes and the Government is powerless to collect from them.

Some of the tax dodgers, Williams said, work in the Treasury department itself.

Terming it "a shocking and disgraceful situation," Williams said in a statement he will ask Congress to enact corrective legislation when the lawmakers return in January.

The Delaware senator, who has long been conducting a one-man checkup of tax frauds, said the 25,000 Federal workers have found a "loophole" enabling them to comply with the law technically by filing their income tax returns, but then refusing to pay the taxes due.

He said he understands the Treasury department will support "the necessary revision in our laws."

The District Internal Revenue office in Baltimore has had 100 agents checking the delinquent Government workers since Oct. 5. "It looks like Senator Williams is out to help us," said a spokesman in the office.

Before the drive started, L. A. Chamberlin, district director, estimated there are 75,000 such delinquent taxpayers owing around 14 million dollars.

A SPOKESMAN said about 30,000 of the delinquents in the Southern Maryland suburbs of Washington have received first notices "to which they don't pay any attention." The agents now are following up by going to their homes.

The visits are made at night, he added, to avoid finding nobody home.

The spokesman said this drive is different from the door-to-door canvass started by the Internal Revenue department in New England. "These people have filed returns, but haven't paid," he said.

She said she thought first prize should have gone to "Miss USA"—23-year-old Mary Griffin of Florence, S. C., who took fifth place and said she was happy.

Handling of Suitcases Is Questioned In Probe of Missing Kidnap Money

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—The policeman whose work led to the solution of the Greenleaf kidnap case today became the central figure himself in an inquiry into reports the FBI has discovered discrepancies in police accounts of the case.

The investigation conducted by Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell centered around the handling of two suitcases in which nearly half of the $600,000 ransom payment was recovered. Some $300,000 of the payment still is missing.

Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, who arrested the kidnap-killer of Bobby Greenleaf, 6, was under a physician's care for a nervous condition and was reported unable to appear at this time at the closed hearing.

Shoulders, whose ailment was attributed by the physician to the lieutenant's work on the case, withheld from newsmen a full explanation of the reported discrepancies, but said:

"I can explain to the proper authorities every move I made."

Shoulders was excused from questioning today as the police chief began the investigation ordered by the St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners.

THE FIRST to be questioned was Patrolman Elmer Dolan, who accompanied Shoulders the night of Oct. 6 when they arrested Carl Austin Hall, 34, the confessed killer of the boy. Dolan was questioned for several hours.

The arrest of Hall and his partner in the crime, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, followed a tip to Shoulders by taxi driver John Hager that Hall was armed and spending money on a lavish scale.

Also on hand for questioning

UN to Hear Report On Israeli Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Security council approved today a US motion by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., requesting a full report from the UN truce supervisor on recent acts of violence between Israel and neighboring Arab states.

The council has not yet formally put this new crisis in Palestine on its agenda. But the request was dispatched anyway for Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, Denmark, chief of staff of the UN truce supervision organization in Palestine, to fly here and tell the council about the latest events.

The council will meet again tomorrow to settle how the question shall be listed on the agenda. It is not expected to hear Bennike until late in the week.

The United States, Britain and France called the council into an urgent session today. They had sharply denounced an Israeli attack the past Wednesday on the Jordan border village of Kibya. The Jordan Government reported 66 Arabs were killed and 9 wounded.

Israeli claimed tension in the area was Jordan's fault and began steps for an inquiry into all border incidents since the 1949 Israeli-Arab armistice agreement took effect.

Long Runs Give Trojan Jayvees 26-14 Victory Over Phoenix JVs

The high-scoring Pottstown High junior varsity football team struck from far out on four occasions yesterday afternoon at down Phoenixville High JV's, 26-14.

Six scoring plays of more than 40 yards highlighted the action on dusty Franklin field as the young Trojans won their third game in four starts.

Al Bodolus carried the ball only a few times, but he made the most of his chances with touchdown runs of 40 and 47 yards. Dave Gillis tallied on a 45-yard jaunt and a 42-yard pass play from Joe Lipko to John Osuch accounted for the other six-pointers. Center Dick Groff made good on two of his four extra point attempts from placement.

The Phoenix reserves also scored both of their touchdowns on long plays. Bob Van Horn connected on pass plays that covered 55 and 48 yards for touchdowns, with Joe Nattale on the scoring end both times. Gary Neher booted both extra points.

One of the best drives of the game was started by Pottstown after the opening kickoff. With Lipko and Don Keifridr totting the ball, the Trojans moved to the Phoenix 20 before a fumble stopped the advance.

Late in the period the home team started moving again from its own 35. After crossing the midfield stripe, Bodolus went around right end after taking a double reverse and falloped for the first tally of the game.

THE SECOND period wasn't too many minutes old when Gillis found clear sailing around left end for a 45-yard touchdown run. Groff added the point after this one.

Shortly before halftime, quarterback Jim Gibbons lateraled back to Lipko, and Joe hurled to Osuch who was wide open on the 15-yard line. He scored with no trouble and Groff again converted.

Coco Kerlin, scrappy Pottstown end blocked a Phoenix kick to set the stage for Lipko's scoring pass.

Kerlin, Dale Leader, Ed Sobresky and Bodolus all played well on defense.

The Phoenix running game was bottled up completely but they had fair success in the air. In the third quarter Van Horn flipped a pass to Nattale who raced down the middle behind the Trojan defenders. He caught the ball on about the 25 and romped over with several Pottstown boys trailing him.

Bodolus' number was again called on the double reverse and with four blockers leading the way, he raced 47 yards for the last Pottstown score in the third period.

Phoenix made a final bid when Nattale again got behind the Pottstown secondary and Van Horn put a pass right on his finger tips. The play covered 43 yards with Nattale running the final 20.

Coach Bill McCabe's team has now scored 70 points in four games while the opposition has compiled 34.

Hill 4ths Lose, 13-7, to Reading Central Catholic

Reading Central Catholic High school scored a 13-7 win over Hill school Fourth on the local gridiron yesterday afternoon.

Reading captain Joe Butzer scored the winning touchdown in the last period with less than two minutes remaining in the game. He took a pass from quarterback John Post that was good for a 50-yard scoring play.

A 75-yard march by Hill in the third period was ended when Sam Hinkle pushed over for the TD on a quarterback sneak. Hill's Perkins booted the tying point. The touchdown was set up by a 15-yard run by Ed Post to move the ball deep into RCC territory.

Mrs. Lightcap Wins Women Dominate Football Contest

For the fourth week in a row a female has invaded the man's world and taken honors in The Mercury Football Forecaster's contest.

Mrs. Mary E. Lightcap, Pottstown RD 4, called the turn in the past week's contest. With the Yale-Cornell and Alabama-Tennessee 0-0 tilts throwing everyone off the track except runnerup Larry Vanderslice, Mrs. Lightcap was the only entrant who picked eight correctly.

She takes her place in the winner's circle with Miss Ann Shoop, winner of the opening contest, Mrs. Frances Ziegler, who tied for first place in the second of the series, and Miss Kathleen M. Schütz, who was one of five tying for first place, in contest No. 3.

Vanderslice took second place by virtue of his naming the seven point difference between Phoenixville and Pottstown. Larry called it 14-7, Phoenixville, and the Phantoms tied it 7-0. He saw the Yale-Cornell tussle as a 13-13 tie.

Both Mrs. Lightcap and Vanderslice can pick up their ducats to the Pottstown-West Chester game at the Mercury office. Mrs. Lightcap gets four tickets, Vanderslice, two.

OUT OF A TOTAL of 36 entries, only 15 stuck by Army, the rest went down with Duke. Eight diehards forgot what Cal did to Penn and strung along with the Quakers who threw a scare into the Buckeyes before going down fighting, 12-6.

Maybe next week the men will take over, but the ladies have a head start and it'll take some doing if the fairer sex batting average

The Bowler's Line

Individuals stole the play from the teams in Pottstown bowling circles the past week with several players rolling games that threatened the high season marks in their leagues.

Top prize for the games reported by the many loops, goes to Charlie Lessig, Jr., whose 257 game enabled his Idaho team to take two games from Baylor in the Monday Night league at the Eagles lanes. Baylor continues to lead the loop although a four point bulge moved Arizona up to within one point of the front runners. Len Drumheller's 610 triple helped Brown take four points from Auburn as well as playing a big part in leading his team to a 2593 high triple. Idaho rolled the No. 1 single game, 904.

Ed Kirk's 243 and 599, paced Dartmouth to a three-point win over Pittsburgh. By winning three points in its match with Duke, Lehigh held first place over Chicago who beat Michigan, 3-1. Yale took the single game prize with 879 and Georgia the triple, 2439.

To lead the team winners in the Tuesday night league at the Eagles. At the same alleys in the Friday night circuit, Gus Schade Jr., had games of 182, 255 and 240 for a blistering 677 series. Schade's game played an important part in Princeton's sweep over Navy. Neff Heitner with 237, 173 and 211 for 621 was the pace setter in Albright's 3-1 victory against Syracuse. Although California retained first place, Princeton was the big team winner with 902 and 2604.

The top average men, Carl Young and Moony Seeders, failed to gain individual honors in the Monday night loop at the Owls. Linny Youse sparked with a 249 game, and Dave Swinehart had the high triple just one point shy of 600. The Slickers rolled the best team single reported during the week, 946, and Eagles was tops in the triple department with 2602.

Young remained at the head of the pack with a 200 average and Seeders claims a 189 norm.

Carl Missimer and Ray Erb shared individual prizes in the Tuesday-Wednesday Owls league. Missimer tabbed a 234 game and Erb had a 610 series to up his average to 186 just two points behind the leader, Bob Boughter with 188. The Snipes were high with team single, 879, and Sparrows collected 2533 for triple prize.

JOE SURMA continued his hard hitting on the West End Fire company alleys as he rolled games of 213-230-186 for 629. As the individual awards are always split, Ernie Marks 212 game was good for single prize. Hooks added to its 17-3 league leading mark with a 2707 team series, the best team effort in the borough last week. Marks won the single blue ribbon with 859. Surma's 192 average paces the loop.

Doug Ludwig upped his average to 179, best in the West End Friday competition, with a 629 series on games of 222-181-211. Al Hornberger took best single with 224. The Adapters lead the league with a record of 15-5.

Larry Missimer was the feature kegger in the Independent league at the Arrow alleys with a classy 246 game, plus a 390 winning series. Lucky Strike took both team highs, 861 and 2121. The Independent's top average man at 188 is Bob Ellis.

Lois Adams and Elvira Bush remained in the spotlight among the women bowlers. Miss Bush was the Arrow Woman's Classic league individual winner with 190 and 530. Mrs. Arlene Bowman rolled the third best game, 176. Miss Bush had 189 and 151 games to complete her triple. Bessie Brendlinger, 460, and Mrs. Mary L. McCord, 449, had other high

Weiss, State Champ Perkiomen Valley Bowmen Enlists 125 Members

The next time a little boy points a bow and arrow at you don't laugh. He may have borrowed the innocent looking weapon from one of the members of the Perkiomen Valley Bowmen, and if he did, brother that's death — not fun staring you in the kisser.

The Bowmen, a field archery club organized primarily to teach men how to handle a bow and arrow in the field while hunting, first saw the light of day in March, 1952.

Three men, Ed Weiss, currently the State champion in field archery, Ed Pruner, now the club president, and Dick Husted, vice president, were the key men in getting the first group together. Starting with 12 members, who soon learned how to handle a bow and arrow, the club has now grown to 125.

Weiss, who has been succeeded as secretary of the club by Monty Woodward, is from Palm. He won the State championship in competition with 185 other archers on Aug. 24 and 25, shooting the highest score, 1125, ever made by an instinctive archer at any State tournament.

An instinctive archer, and all members of the club belong in that category, is one who does not use sights.

"It's a terrific feat to shoot a score like that," Pruner commented.

WEISS has been active in the sport for the past five years and won the Eastern Regional championship at Middletown prior to the State title. He participated in eight tournaments the past Summer and won them all.

The club is located at Marlboro Inn, about a mile north of Green Lane, and boasts a six-acre course laid out over rough ground.

Spotted throughout the course are 28 different targets set up to approximate conditions found in the woods when hunting deer. The targets are shot at from a range of anywhere from 15 feet to 80 yards.

The course is laid out under the specifications of the National Field Archery association and is similar to a nine or 18-hole golf course. It takes a man 24 hours to make the tour, shooting four arrows at each target. The targets vary in size from six inches at 15 feet to two feet at 80 yards. This, according to Pruner, is still larger than the chest area of a deer, which is only about 15 inches.

Recently the club constructed a 14 target course at Ringing Hill on ten acres of woodland. This course is open to the public, and was laid out because a great number of the club's members are from Pottstown and want someplace nearer home to practice.

There are two types of archery, Pruner said, target and field. "Field archery," he went on, "is an entirely different kind of archery. One thing that's different is that you're shooting at various distances and are using a heavier 50 to 60 pound bow."

"Target bows range from 30 to 35 pounds," he said.

By pounds Pruner didn't mean the weight of the bow, but the pounds of pressure pull needed to arch the bow.

Prior to deer season all the targets on the course are removed and animal silhouettes are put up. Targets are used primarily to evaluate a score.

A HUNTER uses broadhead points, which are about 1 1/2 inches in length with a sharp edge on both sides, in comparison to the field point which is used when shooting for a score over a course.

"Contrary to popular belief," Pruner said, "an arrow is a deadly weapon. A bullet kills with shocking power, an arrow kills with cutting power."

He went on to point out that a broadhead cuts internally and the deer bleeds from cut blood vessels, but not outwardly.

Pruner scoffed at hunters who claim to have seen deer with arrows in them during the regular December hunting season. "The first thing a deer with an arrow in him does is get rid of it," the president of the Bowmen said.

"Then he bleeds to death," Field archers had a rough time of it trying to convince the State Legislature that the arrow was more than a playing thing. Those who sat in judgment on whether two weeks in October should be opened to archers had pictures in their minds of wounded deer roaming the forests, but doctors who were fans of the sport, proved to the powers-that-be that a good bow in the hands of an expert is no child's toy. Consequently the law was passed allowing archers to stalk game in October.

"Stalking makes the sport interesting," Pruner asserted. "With a rifle you can shoot from longer ranges, but with a bow and arrow you have to sneak up on your prey, much as the Indians did."

He pointed out that an arrow travels 350 feet per second and that it will actually penetrate farther into a bucket of sand than a 30.30 bullet with a mushrooming head. An arrow will go completely through the bucket. This demonstration is used to show just what power an arrow has, although Pruner admits it can't compare with the shocking power of a bullet.

CATTLE JUDGING CONTEST HELD

Norco, Spring City, Warwick Pupils Participate

North Coventry agriculture pupils joined Warwick and Spring City pupils recently in a cattle judging contest on Miles Davidson's farm, Coventryville.

Robert Stoltzfus, Warwick pupil, won first prize, a $25 US savings bond, for being the best judge of the farm's shorthorn milking herd. James Kenny, Spring City, took the $5 second prize.

There was a three-way tie for third prize between David Kline and Arthur Airey of Norco and Harry Nestric of Spring City. Each of these received a book on the subject of cattle.

The prizes were given by the shorthorn milking breeders association.

John Sparkman, Reading, breed representative, explained to the 75 pupils on the field trip how to select cattle of the shorthorn breed.

Agriculture teachers of the three schools were in charge of the trip, with Neal Burner representing Norco.

Discussions, Reports Predominate In Problems of Democracy Classes

By CLAUDETTE RONDUM

Senior Problems of Democracy classes in North Coventry are very different from usual classes. We use the book only as foundation material. Most of the class consists of reports and informal discussion.

Just recently we had the privilege of hearing first hand about some of the peoples of the world, their problems and what they think of Americans.

Jake Malenke, of Parkerford, showed color movies and told the entire Senior class about Mexico, Central America, and parts of the Far East. It gave our class a chance to see the things which we have heard so much about in courses of social study.

At present, topics under discussion are clear thinking and inter-cultural understanding. We are talking about ways to promote harmony and contentment among all peoples.

Alchemists Studied, Oxygen Prepared By Chemistry Class

The 11th grade chemistry class of North Coventry High school has begun a study of alchemists' ideas about metals. They believed that all metals were really one, differing only in degrees of purity.

Around the time of the 18th century, alchemists disappeared, with druggists, physicians, and teachers taking their place.

After studying the discovery of oxygen by Joseph Priestly in 1774, the class made oxygen during a two-period chemistry class. Instructor Allen Brown said they have more time for laboratory work, which is important in chemistry.

Senior Class Holds Tryouts for Play

By WILBUR YOCOM

The Senior class has chosen as its class play, "Sky High," a mystery comedy by Florence Ryerson and Alice D. G. Miller. The cast consists of nine male and five female characters. Tryouts for the play have been held but as yet, no definite roles have been given. The play is to be given Tuesday night, Nov. 24 in the Elementary building auditorium. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Harry Clark.

Also in the news spot light this week was the election of editor and business manager of the yearbook. April Asseo was elected editor-in-chief and Ruth Gorman business manager. Other people are signing up for work on the yearbook, "The Torch."

The annual vanilla-selling campaign is now well under way. The money made on the sales of vanilla goes toward each person's individual credit in the Senior budget.

Fight Mob Casts Big Vote for Bobo Olson

RANDY TURPIN GETS SLIM BACKING FROM EXPERTS TO COP TITLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—What's with Randy Turpin? That's the puzzle for the fight mob trying to stab a winner as odds favoring Bobo Olson hold steady at 11 to 5 in Wednesday's middleweight title bout at Madison Square Garden.

Olson is a know quantity. The baldish Hawaiian is a busy, cute fighter without too much wallop. Turpin used to be a rugged, awkward fighter who manhandled Sugar Ray Robinson like he never was handled before. But what is he today?

The British Negro did his best to confuse the experts with his sporadic training at Grossinger, N. Y. He had three capable sparring partners but boxed only five times in three weeks. In the last week he worked only once, or, at least, only once publicly.

"He hasn't done enough boxing to suit me," said Jack Solomons, the London promoter. "When I watched him he appeared out of distance (off on his timing). "I talked to George (manager George Middleton) on the telephone today and he was as happy as could be. He said he didn't want to tell me his weight on the phone but not to worry."

"I WAS NOT impressed by the Olson that fought Hairston (Eugene Hairston, who was stopped by Bobo in 1952). Perhaps he has improved since then but a man that can't punch hard can't beat a Turpin."

American managers and trainers, baffled by Turpin's strange training routine, are picking Olson almost to a man. "He's a better fighter," said Whitey Bimstein, veteran trainer.

"I saw him (Olson) when he was just a punk kid, boxing Tommy Yarosz. He can do anything the other guy does and keep going all night."

"What do we know about Turpin?" said Harry Stiekvers, manager of Paddy Young, who lost to Olson in the American title bout last June. "I've got to lean to Olson. Paddy feels the same way."

Before he left for Paris, Al Weill, Rocky Marciano's manager, advised, "pick Olson and don't make a mistake." Irving Cohen, manager of Rocky Graziano, a former middle king, also picks Bobo.

Dan Florio, who trains Roland La Starza and Paddy Young, is torn between two loyalties. "I'll root for Turpin because Paddy might get to fight him but I lean to Olson. He's smart, cute and takes a good punch."

FREDDIE BROWN, veteran corner man, casts a solid dissenting vote.

"I like Turpin to knock him out," said Brown. "When he hits him, he'll know he got hit. Young staggered Olson a few times and did nothing about it. Olson is too slow for this fellow. He's a real strong guy."

Nat Rogers and Eddie Walker, two managers who have seen the best come and go, are in the Olson camp.

"He's awkward clever, if you know what I mean," said Rogers. "I saw Turpin in a six rounder in 1947. I think he was a better fighter then than he is today. Olson will wear him down."

"Olson is a heady fighter," said Walker. "He's a plugger, keeps going all the time. Turpin wastes too much time, trying to make the other guy miss."

Joe Vellar, former manager of Gus Lesnevich, called Olson a "better fighter." He added, "I never thought much of the other guy."

While the fight crowd talked about the scrap, the two principals took it easy. Turpin reportedly did seven miles on the road and went shopping. Olson ran 4½ miles and lapsed in the gym for 45 minutes at Asbury Park, N. J. Bobo weighed 161 pounds. Both will come to New York tomorrow.

Crawford Mims, senior guard on the University of Mississippi grid team has started in the last 70 college and high school games in which he has played.

Bert Bell Reports NFL Attendance Increase of 72,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Bouncy Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, made his annual report to the New York football writers today.

He said: 1. Attendance in the first 24 games is 72,000 above that of last year—an average of 3000 a game—and the league is headed for an all-time crowd mark.

2. The pro circuit is so evenly balanced that every club in it will lose at least three games. The Cleveland Browns currently are the league's only unbeaten team.

3. Salaries are 400 percent above what they were 10 years ago and can be met only because of added television receipts.

4. Pro football is a "lousy business" with only four of the 12 clubs in the black. "You go to a bank and try to borrow money on it and they'll shut the door in your face."

5. THE NFL will win the television suit brought by the government because "We're not going to stand for socialized medicine and we're not going to stand for socialized TV."

The squat, husky-voiced pro executive said the pro teams offer their games on 150 outlets during a 24-hour period starting Saturday night and "no other program has as many outlets unless it's the President of the United States."

"We give the people plenty of television," he added. But we're going to protect our home gate. We're not going to permit television of home games. And we're going to win the suit."

The NFL is on the Government anti-trust carpet, charged with entering into a conspiracy to restrain trade. The case is still in Federal courts.

Speaking of the league generally, Bell said attendance is up because of the closeness of the race and the "rough, tough but clean show we give the fans."

"I DON'T THINK any club can escape losing three games," he added. "And I don't mean to throw any reflection on Cleveland, which is unbeaten. The Browns have a great ball club and Otto Graham (Cleveland quarterback) is having his greatest year."

"But this is a well-balanced league. A team can run up a 21-point lead and still be in danger of losing. No team can stay up for 12 consecutive Sundays."

The oldest five-man team in American Bowling Congress competition was the Citizen's Bank team of Vermillion, S. D. The average was 69.8.

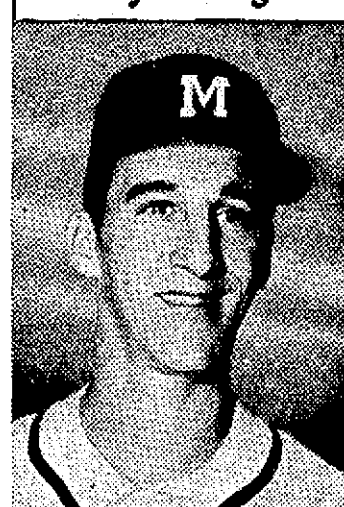

The heaviest player on the Florida State football squad is 245-pound sophomore end Tom Feamster of Warwick, Va.

Georgia Tech Risks Longest Unbeaten String Against Irish

ATLANTA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Has Georgia Tech, after a sluggish start, found its form and power in time to knock favored Notre Dame off the nation's football throne?

Tech coach Bobby Dodd, whose team is the underdog for the first time since early in 1951, says he doesn't know.

"Our squad has improved but it still is not a great football team," that usually optimistic Dodd said today. "I hate to keep harping on this theme, but we're just not as good as Notre Dame. But our boys will be keyed up to play a fine football game."

Tech will carry to South Bend the nation's longest undefeated string—29 victories and two ties. None of the Yellow Jacket regulars ever tasted defeat in a college game.

Tech's national ranking—sixth before Saturday's 38-6 conquest of previously unbeaten Auburn—feared and tottered early in the season. The Jackets were held to a scoreless tie by Florida on a windy, rain-swept field and to a 6-4 victory by Southern Methodist.

SOME OF the old spark which carried Tech to a perfect season last year reappeared in the 27-13 defeat of Tulane and the Jackets looked even better against Auburn. But can they whip the fast, tough and tricky Irish? "I just don't know what the outcome will be," replied Dodd. Notre Dame holds a 14-2 edge in the series.

"One thing I'm proud of," he added. "We're in pretty good shape physically. Roger Frey, our starting left tackle, may be out for the season with a bad knee, but our only other injured player is Sam Hensley, who got a Charlie horse and some bruises in the Auburn game."

Hensley, No. 1 left end, is expected to play, however. Dodd expressed pleasure at the way his backfield aces are returning to their fine form of last year. He mentioned halfback Leon Hardeman, fullback Glenn Turner and quarterback Bill Brigran. Turner has looked good all season, but Hardeman hit his stride against Auburn.

"Brigran is one of the most improved players on the squad," the coach reported. "He has more poise and his passing is improving."

BRIGMAN COMPLETED all five passes he threw against Tulane and hit five of seven against Auburn.

Has Tech worked up any new plays to throw at Notre Dame? "No, we haven't had a chance to," said Dodd. "We had to get ready for Auburn last week. We begin preparing for Notre Dame today, just the same as for any other team."

Dodd plans to substitute by team units as he did against Auburn. He probably will start halfback Charlie Brannon instead of Billy Teas, Hardeman's sidekick of last year, to add defensive strength to his No. 1 unit.

Coaches Praise Orange Bowl Pact of Big Seven, ACC

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Orange Bowl's two-year pact with the Big Seven and Atlantic Coast conferences was praised by coaches and college officials today as a step toward taking some of the taint of commercialism off post-season football.

Under the agreement, the two conferences will supply the teams for the next two Orange Bowl games. Oklahoma and Maryland are favored to dominate the two circuits this season and meet here next New Year's Day in the first game under the pact.

Missouri's coach Don Faurot said he had always favored Bowl games "where they are under the control of the colleges and the money is divided among all Conference members, so the rich don't get richer and the poor poorer."

Each team will be guaranteed $110,000 for the 1954 game and $112,000 for the 1955 game. The Big Seven team playing in the Bowl will turn 80 percent of its purse over to the conference, to be divided equally among the other member schools.

THE ACC has not announced how its share will be divided. ACC Commissioner Wallace Wade was enthusiastic over the agreement because "it takes out all the worry and some of the commercialism. The latter feature makes it acceptable to the faculty people."

The Big Seven will send its champion to the 1954 game. The ACC will have to vote on its representative because the conference was just recently organized and will not be able to determine a true champion through round-robin schedules for two years.

Executive Secretary Reaves E. Peters said the Big Seven will not permit the same team to go to the Orange Bowl two years in a row. At present, Wade said the ACC has no rule which would prevent a team from playing in Miami both years of the agreement.

In voting on its representative, Wade said the ACC would have to take into consideration games played outside the conference. Thus, Duke's chances will suffer because of its 14-13 loss to Army in New York last week.

At this stage of the campaign, Maryland looks like the class of the ACC. Besides Duke, the other members are North Carolina, Clemson, Wake Forest, South Carolina, Virginia and North Carolina State.

OKLAHOMA is expected to win the championship of the Big Seven which also includes Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Kansas State and Iowa State.

Kansas Coach Jules Sikes expressed pleasure over the two-year agreement and said "prospects are bright for it to become permanent." Maryland's Coach Jim Tatum also gave hearty approval to the pact, declaring "The team which goes to the Orange Bowl may expect the best of everything..."

Floyd Patterson Scores Decision Over Bascom

BROOKLYN, Oct. 19 (AP)—Unbeaten Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn won a unanimous eight round decision over Wes Bascom, East St. Louis, Ill., tonight at the Eastern Parkway arena before a crowd of 1500. Patterson weighed 166½ and Bascom 175½.

Patterson, 19-year-old light heavyweight, won his eighth in a row since turning pro. Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 6-1 while judge Tony Rossi scored it 5-1 and judge Artie Schwartz ruled it 7-1 in favor of the 1952 Olympic middleweight champion.

Patterson, the 3-1 favorite, started off fast in the first round but a right to the jaw by Bascom buckled Patterson's knees late in the round. In the second Patterson suffered a cut in the corner of the left eye which bled freely throughout the fight. In the third Patterson received a bloody nose which also gave him trouble throughout the fight.

In the fifth round Patterson connected with a left hook and right to the chin that staggered Bascom. In the sixth Patterson's best round, he landed left hooks to the jaw and short right hands to the head that had Bascom in trouble.

Early in the seventh a left hook to Bascom's head had the 24-year-old Bascom hanging on. However, late in the round Bascom who had been pressing the fight, sent a left hook and right to the head that sent Patterson into the ropes and made him hang on.

Dykes Stops McCoy

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 19 (AP)—Slim Bobby Dykes, of Austin, Tex., connected with a looping right hand to knockout Al 'Kid' McCoy tonight at 2:11 of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Omitting the usual Monday afternoon showing of Saturday's game films, Caldwell ordered a defensive session against Cornell plays run by the Nassau Jayvees. Princeton meets the Big Red Saturday in Palmer stadium in a clash of Ivy league powers.

Caldwell admitted that the Tigers will probably be underdogs Saturday but denied that Navy's 65-7 triumph over Princeton could be compared with the Midlands' 26-6 victory over Cornell. He also revealed that junior quarterback Dick Emery of Upper Montclair should be back in the starting lineup this week after sitting out two games.

Cincinnati's 1953 Redlegs set a club record in homers as early as July 19. On that date Ted Kluszewski hit number 111 which surpassed the old mark of 110 set by the 1938 team.

Another Feed at Public Trough?

SEVERAL years ago Burgess William A. Griffith put on a good-time-Charley act by taking his "official" family to dinner. Burgess Griffith, however, didn't pick up the check.

He saddled a bill of $192.50 on the public. He had the borough pay the bill!

This week Burgess Griffith is having the same group, the Montgomery County Boroughs association, meet in Pottstown.

With the usual Griffith evasiveness, the burgess refuses to say if he has invited the borough hall drones to eat at the public's expense.

All he'll say is: "All the officials get an invitation."

If the burgess this year saddles the cost of this feed on the public, there should a taxpayer's suit to surcharge councilmen who vote for payment.

There's no more reason why the borough hall clerks should eat at public expense, than there is for a Bethlehem Steel worker to charge his meals to the company. Imagine a Bethlehem Steel guy getting away with that!

Burgess Griffith has proved himself to have little regard for the public money. Recall his recent suggestion to hire a physician to examine alleged drunken drivers at $1000 a year? It turned out that fewer than 10 examinations are made a year. That'd come to $100 a visit to the doctor!

He should have seen his mistake years ago when he asked the borough to foot a $192.50 "free feed" bill. Public indignation ran high. He shouldn't make that same mistake twice.

A Way to Give

O. C. Bearcraft, the automobile club tycoon who retired from active service only to find himself doing more work than ever in the interest of his community, has come up with a simple United Fund donation formula.

Mr. Bearcraft is in charge of the workers in the townships around Pottstown. That means he alone covers almost as many homes as there are in Pottstown, because his area includes Lower, Upper and West Pottsgrove, Douglass, New Hanover and North Coventry townships, and the western half of Limerick township and Linfield.

He's in charge of hundreds of workers who will knock on doors to ask for contributions. Since all these townships use Pottstown agencies as much as Pottstonians, the people who live there are as anxious to donate. But how much shall they give?

Mr. Bearcraft tells his workers that there's a simple answer.

"If the householder feels she'd give $1 every time a request for agency funds came to her door, then she should give $26," said the indefatigable Mr. Bearcraft. "You see, there are 26 agencies in this drive."

"If the householder feels capable of giving 50 cents an agency, then she should subscribe $13."

"Now, it isn't necessary to give all of that $26 or $13 at once. Easy payments can be made. The donor can spread it over four payments; one-quarter with the subscription, then three equal installments spread over a year. That shouldn't be hard for any householder."

Mr. Bearcraft pointed out that householders are saving themselves a lot of annoyance by making ONE contribution to the United Fund.

"Householders can eliminate 25 knocks at the door by giving ONCE to the United Fund," he said. "Imagine how annoying it would be to all if 26 knocks came on the door, 26 pleas for charity funds!"

The Bearcraft plan sounds like a good one. It's recommended to rural persons for consideration. Decision should be made at once, because the house-to-house canvass will start today.

Mr. Bearcraft's minions hope to raise $3695—and that ought to be easy in the populous townships around Pottstown. Last year the quota in this area was $2619. Mr. Bearcraft should go over the top here!

How Much Do You Pay?

VERY few of us realize how much money we must pay in taxes—for the reason that so large a part of the tax burden is indirect.

Here is what the average families in the listed income brackets pay:

Four thousand dollars—$1093, or 27.3 percent of income; $7500—$2766, or 36.9 percent of income; $10,000—$4005, or 40 percent of income.

Keep that in mind next time you hear the hoary old argument that only the well-to-do and the rich need really worry about taxes.

Idle-Hand Vandals

To the Editor: All this vandalism you hear so much about is nothing but the devil working through idle hands.

These young smart alecks should be made to work about 16 hours a day for a while. Maybe then they wouldn't feel so much like tearing around at night making trouble.

Trouble is that nowadays the parents are too soft-headed. Soon as a kid is 16 they buy him a car and let him run. On top of that he gets all the spending money he wants without working for it.

In my day I worked from sun-up until sundown, and all I got was room and board. If I didn't do my work I knew I'd be punished.

Believe me, I didn't feel like ramming around at night when I was young. I was dead tired and ready for bed as soon as it got dark.

Most others of my generation had it the same way. There wasn't any easy money in those days. No cars to go tearing ing around in to make trouble for decent people either.

There's too much prosperity these days and not enough work. It's ruining our young people. No wonder they don't have any respect for property.

Husband No Stooze

To the Editor: In reply to the letter of a "Disgrunted Flag worker" (Lauds Strike Action, Readers Say, Oct. 15):

My husband is no company "stooze" and my former letter was sent of my own volition and was read by my husband for the first time in The Mercury.

Does this Flag worker really believe that men in other plants make double $50 per week for the same type of work as is being done at Flag's, by him?

Naturally, in every plant in the United States skilled workers are paid more than laborers.

Practically all workers at Flag's were given the wrong impression. Notice of the last meeting of the union was posted the morning of the same day, implying it was a special meeting to inform them of the progress accomplished by the negotiating committee. Never dreaming an "aye" or "nay" vote would be taken to strike.

The union officials were asked by the company to continue working while the contract was being negotiated. This, they flatly refused!

Yet, these same men, themselves employees of Flag's, negotiated the contract at Pottstown Metal Products to a satisfactory conclusion.

It is very gratifying to see many mothers feel as I do and hope we can get through to these union officials our desire for a settled domestic life again!

Way to Solve Problem

To the Editor: In answer to the letter from the "Collector" from Spring City ("Seeks Solution," Readers Say, Oct. 15).

We are surely aware of the problems of out-of-town workers giving to the Pottstown United Fund.

First of all, we seek contributions at a person's place of employment because of the advantage of payroll deductions.

Secondly, between larger communities this balances out. For example, Pottstown residents working in Reading contribute to the Reading fund and visa versa.

But in the case of Spring City where there is little industry and services are comparatively limited, campaign officials might sit down with the Pottstown United Fund Board and discuss possible plans for a joint campaign or see what services could be made available to Spring City.

Law to Protect You

To the Editor: It is revolting that people in this supposed enlightened democracy such as "Shocked," ("Crime and Punishment," Readers Say, Oct. 16) would even suggest that criminals be burned at the stake.

Are we turning back the clock to the days of the Puritans who reveled in such torture and witchcraft?

Our approach is that a person is innocent until proved guilty in a court of law. This is not to protect criminals, but to protect you.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

NORMA F. is a college junior.

"Dr. Crane, you say that it isn't healthy to expose the skin to the hot sunshine," she began.

"But why do so many people do so, then? For they will rush to Florida or California in the winter and lie right out on the beach till they often blister the skin."

"Why do they do such things, if hot sunlight is not good for them?"

"WHY DO THEY" suck on cigarettes," I might reply, "when modern medicine tells them that smoking increases the likelihood of heart attacks, high blood pressure, cancer of the mouth and lungs, as well as sexual impotence?"

You readers know the answer. The American public is much like a flock of sheep. It can be stampeded in any direction that proves profitable to the strategists who manipulate the advertising.

And I'm not exaggerating. A few years ago a fad struck even the college campuses wherein students swallowed live gold fish.

Panty raids are a more recent variation in this mob hysteria. In fact, if you wished to spend a fair amount of money advertising the following new fad, you could soon get coeds to wear baby lizards, instead of orchids, on their evening gowns when they attended formal parties.

TANNED SKIN has simply been associated with athletic, outdoor men and also with the wealthy who can afford to vacation in Florida or California in winter.

So the thoughtless majority stampedes for sun tans. Actually, the big doses of ultra violet light from the sunshine are hazardous to health.

Heavy doses of sunshine cause peptic ulcers to flare up again and promote tuberculosis. They even predispose to a breakdown of the skin via cancer.

You get plenty of sunshine just as reflected light while sitting in the shade. And your hands and face alone absorb all you need even when you are fully clothed or wear a large hat or sit under a beach umbrella.

So beware of heavy tans! The tanning of the skin, anyway, is your body's last-ditch fight to protect you from the big doses of ultra violet light in sunshine.

A FORMER SCREEN star now decorating the TV screens is worrying about future press clippings. Expects to be named in a divorce suit involving a member of the Roosevelt family . . . Marlon Brando has something new in Amecches—a "one way" telephone. He can call the outside world, but nobody can ring him up. Too many girls bother him . . . A US senator's son has just been convicted on an ugly charge in Washington. It was kept extremely sotto voce.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19—Chances for Jean Simmons joining spouse Stewart Granger in England while he's making "Beau Brummel" grow slimmer. Her high-paying contract with Howard Hughes calls for her to be available — and the gal won't risk being out of this country in case of a studio call. Even though the call isn't likely to come through — there being nothing on tap for Jean at R.K.O. However, we understand Granger's secretary, well-stocked Flo Allen, will bounce to Britain with Stew next month . . . Flo used to go with Brian Donlevy—and we remember this tee, hee from those days: Miss A., in a snug sweater, alighted from Brian's station wagon, parked in front of a "well-populated" drug store. (Translation: Schwabs). Then she stood talking to someone while leaning against the front door of the car. On it was painted, "Donlevy Development Company."

Olivia DeHavilland

OLIVIA DE Havilland's sexy role in "The Human Beast"—after a series of rather drab parts, gives her the first chance in several years to be frisky. She goes from parlor dignity to the "hurl-burly of the chaise longue," so to speak. . . There IS something new under the sun—and don't say we didn't tell ya! At Thanksgiving time, Martin and Lewis will stage a coast-to-coast Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy over NBC. This will be a completely different approach to TV fund-raising; and will have a "gimmick" we're not permitted to divulge yet. The show, to emanate from Hollywood, will last only four hours. But because of the gimmick, they expect to raise no less than three million dollars!

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Some School Talent . . .

A Trio of Youngsters . . .

★ THEY'LL GET HIM YET—This '11 probably be the year when a Maack will lend his ability and energy to the community in furthering school work. On the Republican ticket for the November election is Herbert R. Maack, young East End resident, as a candidate for the school board. Twenty or so years ago the late Jack Swavelly, then a Republican bigwig, prevailed upon Herman Maack Sr., 1005 North Evans street, to run for the school board. Herman was almost convinced. But press of work forced him to decline the invitation. Now the Maack on the ticket is his son, who is associated with his father and brother (Herman Jr.) in the operation of the Pottstown Plating Works, Inc., Laurel and Washington streets. Herman Sr. formed that company after long service with Doehler Die Casting . . .

THERE'S SOME REAL school board talent in the candidacy of another Republican, come to think of it. This star is HERBERT W. STAUFFER JR., 1027 Terrace lane. Herb Junior probably has heard nothing but school board affairs all his young life, because he's the son of the veteran Stowe schoolman, HERBERT W. SENIOR. He ought to know something about school district problems. And speaking of the GOP candidates, they're an energetic, youthful bunch. Maack's only 29 and Stauffer is 30. The "old man" of the three seeking office is DOUGLASS V. O'DELL, the real estate man. O'Dell was 39 (Happy birthday, Doug!) yesterday!

★ EVERYTHING BUT—Mrs. Charles Knufmann, who lives along Old Reading pike near the borough water department's pumping station at Bramcote, reported that Richard Blair, deputy game protector, is encountering problems in his drive against several foxes that are scampering around her yard and garden at night. He got one in a trap, all right, but traps he put out later yielded a skunk, possum and rabbit, but no fox. Helping patrol the traps was Mrs. Knufmann's daughter, Mrs. James Haas. The one fox caught was shot by Walter E. Boyer, water department worker . . . Speaking of game, Mrs. Michael Petzer, who lives on Route 100, half-mile north of Highland Memorial park, reported sighting two deer in her yard yesterday. She's been living there 33 years. This was only the third time she's sighted deer. What's more, pheasants are so plentiful on her property these days that they're downright noisy.

SYMPHONIST — SARA CHANCELLOR, 832 High street, daughter of PAUL CHANCELLOR, director of the humanities program at The Hill, has been accepted as a member of the cello section of the Reading symphony orchestra and played her first concert with it Sunday. Miss Chancellor also is a member of the Allentown symphony. Reading symphony conductor is ALEXANDER HILSBURG, former associate conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra, now conductor of the New Orleans symphony. The Allentown conductor is DONALD VOORHEES, conductor of radio's "Telephone Hour" orchestra. Miss Chancellor is continuing her cello study in Philadelphia.

★ FLYING POSTMASTER—J. Alfred Marquet, Pottstown postmaster, is flying out to the national convention of postmasters to be held in San Francisco, Calif. He's leaving Friday night, flying from Philadelphia . . . A Stowe soldier took advantage of a furlough while stationed in France to visit a grandmother he never saw. Pfc. Samuel DiGiosia Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DiGiosia Sr., 814 Vine street, Stow, spent his last 10-day-furlough in Montoria, Italy, visiting with his father's mother. The whole town turned out to see me," he wrote home. "I've got more relatives here than I do back in the States." The youth is stationed at Orleans, France, and has been in the Army for the past year and a half. His brother Victor, 24, is stationed in Germany. He's been in the Army for over a year.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

AN ACTION so common as the scratching of a simple itch may turn out to be a dangerous thing.

Scratching may cause a skin disorder so disturbing to the disease originally causing the itch that it is difficult to determine the actual cause of the trouble. Thus, it may make diagnosis and treatment all the more difficult.

Itching of the skin or other parts of the body, such as the rectum or reproductive organs, may be due to either general or local causes.

Local causes include such things as insect bites, pinworms, or irritations from certain types of plants, such as poison ivy. There may be irritation from pollens or certain medicines that are used to relieve the itching to which the person is sensitive.

Even an excess of strong body secretions, such as sweat and urine, or a discharge, may cause local irritation.

Certain systemic diseases that affect the entire body many times do not cause much of a rash, but do cause very severe itching. Good examples of this are diabetes, Hodgkin's disease, or a condition of the blood known as leukemia.

Sometimes an allergy or sensitivity will cause itching throughout the body. Some women have this discomfort associated with the

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN BERLIN'S Soviet Zone, a German was assigned to labor in a factory which was supposed to ship parts for baby carriages to Moscow. Having a baby himself, he resolved to pilfer enough parts to construct a carriage of his own. A fellow workman, aware of his scheme, asked him a few days later, "Well, have you got that carriage rolling yet?" The German scratched his head and said, "It's the most astonishing thing I've got all the parts—but no matter how I assemble them, they make a machine gun!"

Tales of Londoners' heroism during the Nazi blitz are legion, but Bobby Clarke knows one worthy citizen who had a special grievance against the German planes. He was found in a mass of rubble and smoking ruins, waving a doorknob and screaming, "Bloody blighters! They blew a saloon right out of my hands!"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

ANYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

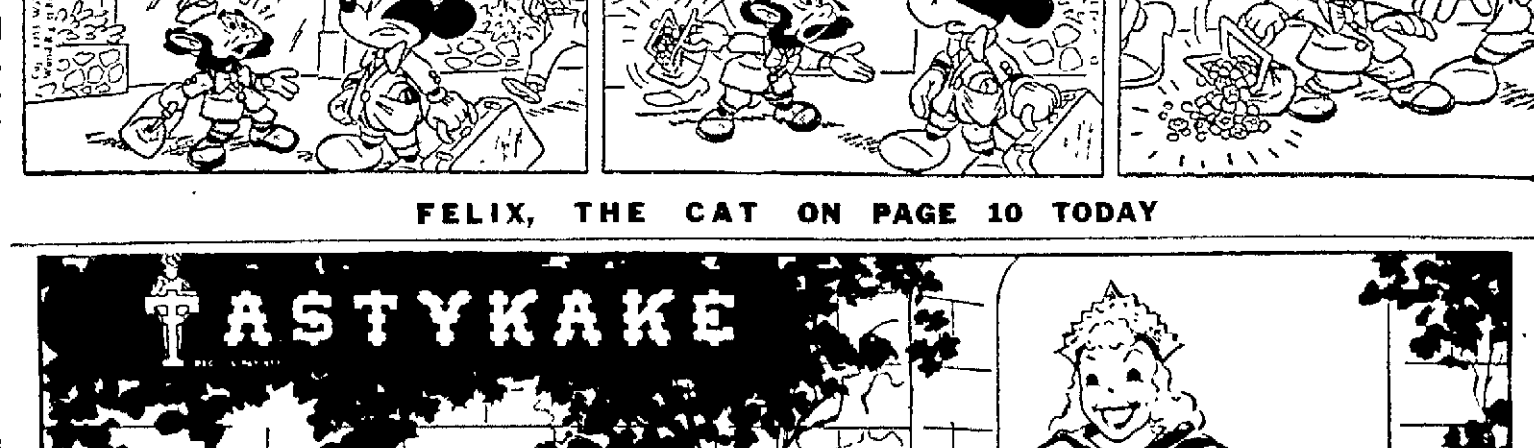

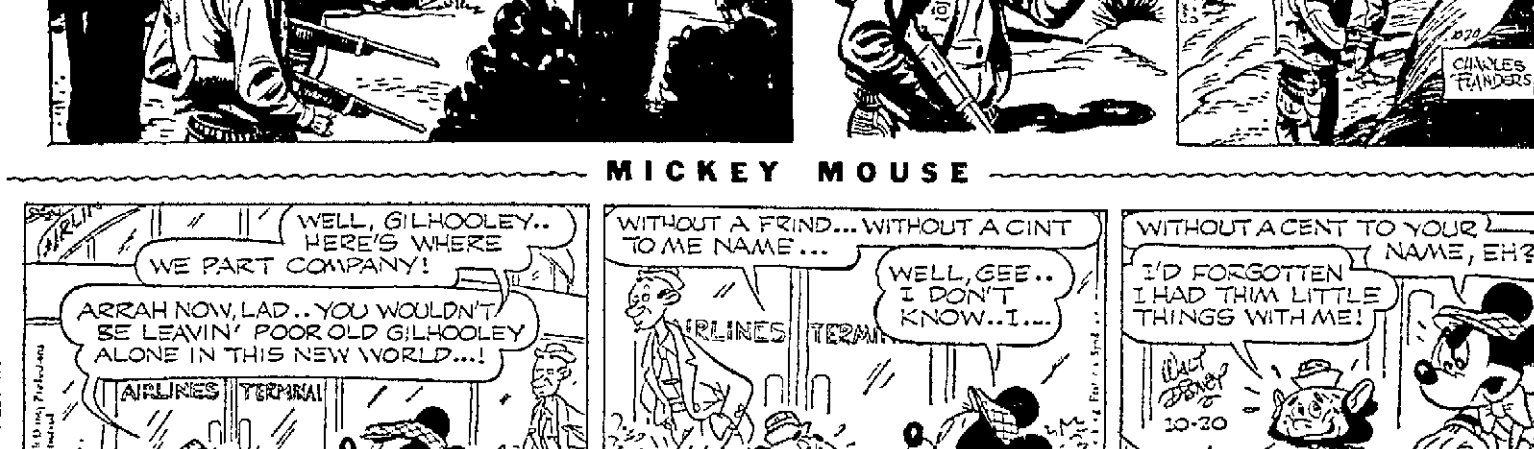

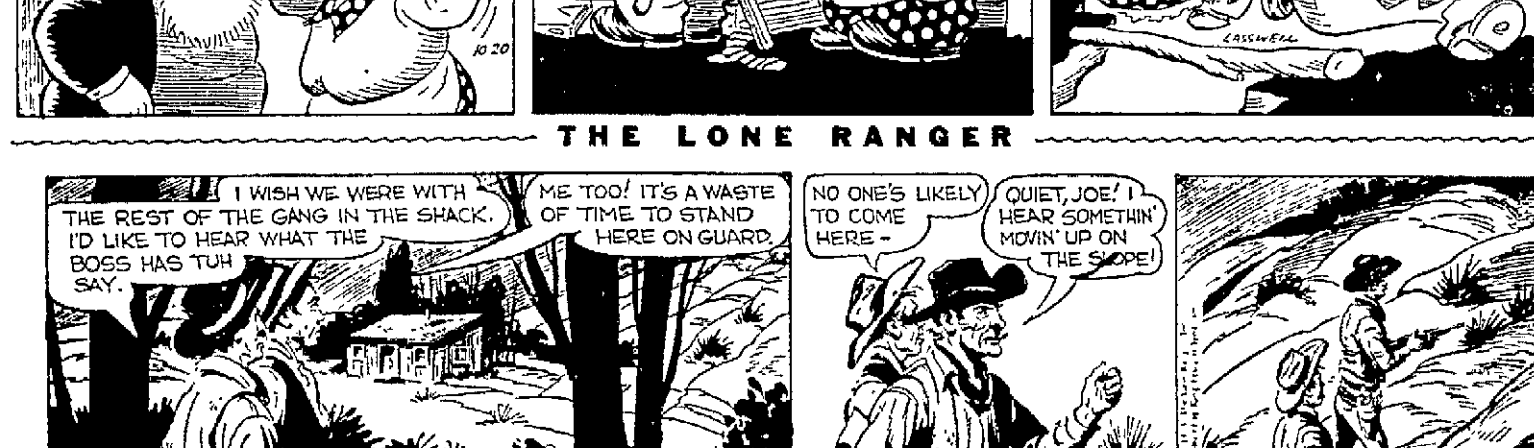

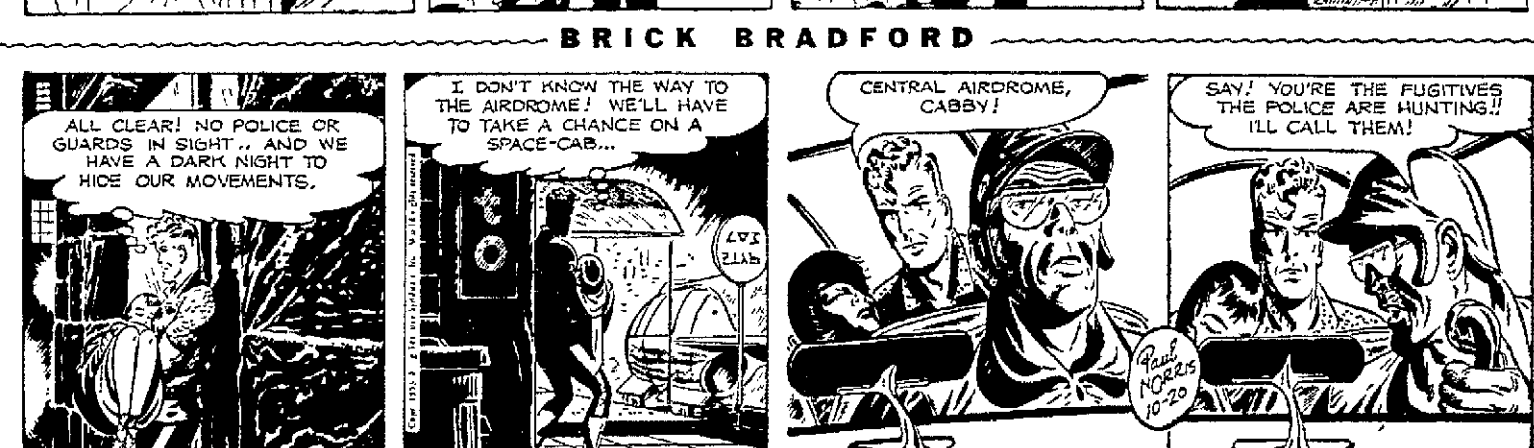

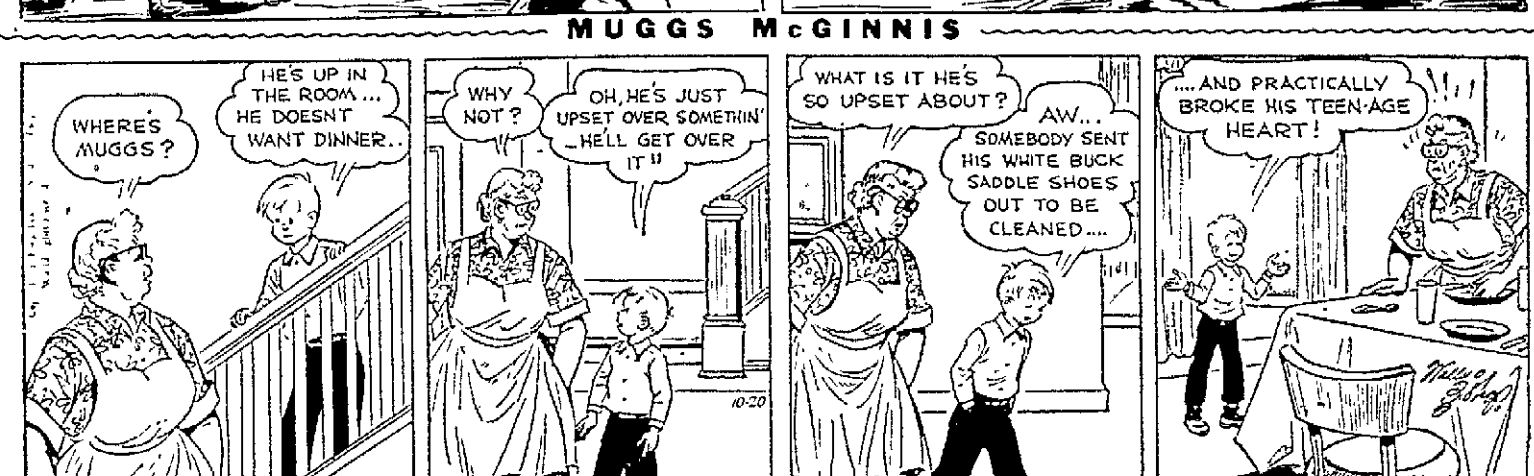

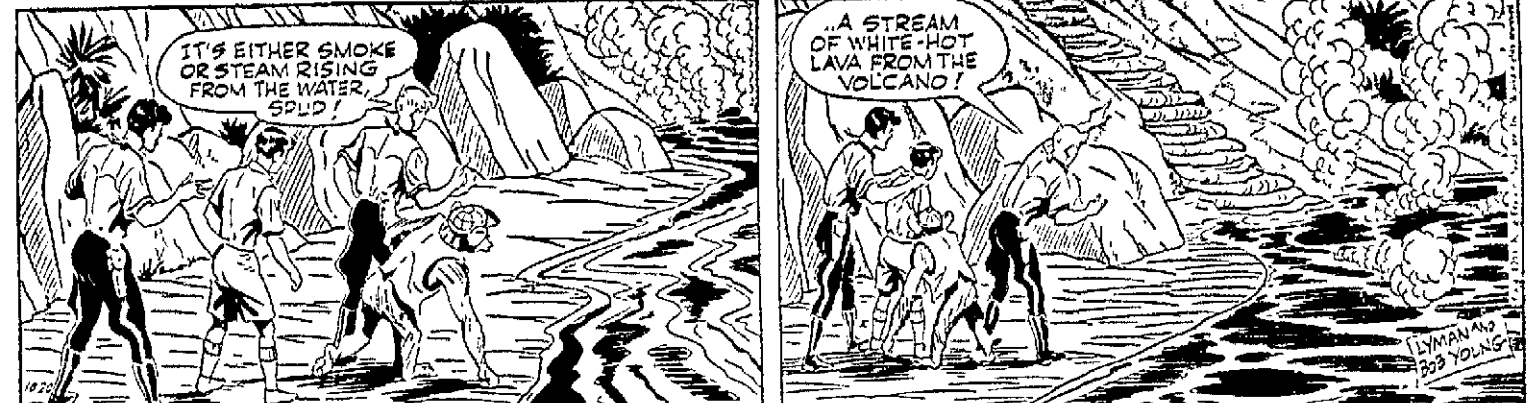

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

Here's a view of the old French Creek hotel in Chester county in the days when farmers used horses and carriages to get around on dirt roads.

The French Creek section is one of the most historic in the Pottstown area. In the early 1700's, Samuel Nutt found iron along the French Creek. In 1719, he built a forge at Coventry, and the next year he built a new-type furnace, first in the section, along the French Creek.

Pittsburgh Mishap Tops 'Woman Driver' Stories

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 (AP)—Don't talk to Mrs. Catherine Ritson about unlucky motorists. She ran into her own car!

Mrs. Ritson rented a small truck to pick up some articles. As she was driving near her home, a line of traffic stopped suddenly and her truck crashed into the auto ahead of her. It was Mrs. Ritson's car, driven by a sister, Mrs. Mary McCarthy. Mrs. Ritson was slightly injured two tons, had been on a steady diet of so-called miracle drugs the past few days. Zoo officials became alarmed a week ago when the rhino's breathing became labored and his daily portion of a couple of bushels of carrots, spinach and apples didn't interest him anymore.

The favorite of thousands of Pittsburgh kiddies, George Joe was born in 1941 at Chicago's Brookfield zoo. His death left the Steel City zoo without a rhinoceros. Officials said they'll shop around for a pair and hope to have them on exhibition next Summer.

Israel Will Make Own Appeal to UN

JERUSALEM, Israeli Section, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Israel cabinet decided to make its own appeal to the United Nations Security Council concerning the latest murderous raids along the Israeli-Jordan border.

An official announcement said the cabinet would direct the council's attention to "violations of the armistice agreements by the Arab states and particularly the series of outrages and murders committed by Jordanians along the armistice line."

The United States, Britain and France asked the security council yesterday to take up the problem on an urgent basis and the council responded by ordering a meeting for tomorrow morning. Arab-Israeli relations appeared at their lowest ebb since the armistice in 1949.

Jordan claims 66 persons were killed by Israeli raiders last Wednesday night in an assault on three Jordan villages. Israeli newspapers contend the raid was in retaliation for the murder of an Israeli woman and two children by Jordanians earlier in the week.

Program Surpassed, Hungarians Declare

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Government's third quarter economic report said Hungary's industry had surpassed its "modified economic plan. It said the plan had been carried out 102.5 percent.

The Government revised its five-year plan targets in accordance with a "new course" policy proclaimed July 4.

On that day Premier Imre Nagy spoke against "exaggerated industrialization" and promised Hungarians more food and consumer goods.

How the Government modified the original, which was a law passed by parliament, was not disclosed.

Low Teachers' Pay Shocks Brownell

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said he was shocked by some recent statistics on school teachers' salaries in some parts of the country. He said messengers in the Justice department are paid more in many instances.

"No wonder," he said, "that teaching profession does not have the full attraction for the youth who might otherwise adopt it as a lifetime career."

The attorney general discussed the importance of the school in the prevention of juvenile delinquency in an address prepared for the dedication of a new campus at New Haven State Teachers college.

His brother, Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, president of the college since 1947, was named by President Eisenhower the past week as the new US commissioner of education.

Trade Action Doubtful, Nixon Tells Australians

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 19 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon said he couldn't predict what Congress would do about easing trade barriers on wool, meat and dairy products.

In a Nation-wide radio broadcast Nixon told trade-conscious Australians that trade restrictions are a "domestic political issue" in the United States.

Australian leaders are expected to make the question of trade restrictions a major point when they discuss Australian-American questions in a meeting at Canberra Tuesday.

Just Like Old Times

McKEESPORT, Oct. 19 (AP)—It was just like old times when Edward Darling, a Pittsburgh tavern owner, walked up the front steps of his home.

Two armed men greeted Darling, he told police. They relieved him of all his cash, then forced him inside and punctuated their demands for more money by slapping him frequently. Two relatives ran to his aid and were stripped of their jewelry and cash.

The total loot amounted to $4320, Darling sadly told police. That was even worse than Dec. 5, 1952, when he was robbed of $2150 under identical circumstances.

Youth 'Playfully' Draws Gun, Kills Companion

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 19 (AP)—Police said a 20-year-old Dayton youth "playfully" drew a .38 caliber revolver from the glove compartment of his car and shot to death his 16-year-old companion. The bullet fired by William Ross severed blood vessels near the heart of Kenneth Shields, a high school football player, while Ross' car was being driven by a third youth through downtown Dayton. Ross, who apparently didn't know the gun was loaded, was not held.

CONSTIPATED?

Here's happy news for constipation sufferers from James J. Driscoll, 2nd of Connellsville, Pa.

"I never imagined I could get such blessed, fast relief from constipation as I do now. I used to suffer terribly from constipation—go most of the day before I got any sort of relief. "But that was before I learned about Sal Hepatica's gentle, speedy action. It's wonderful. If I take it before breakfast, I get relief usually within an hour!"

Tomatoes Thrown At Resident's Home Break Panes of Glass

Halloween vandalism in Pottstown, which includes early morning explosions of cherry bombs and big firecrackers and the theft of rugs from washlines now includes the bombardment of windows with rotten tomatoes.

Latest victim of vandalism is Edward M. Curry, 929 Queen street, who has reported a broken front window in his home.

The window was the target of tomato-slinging vandals.

Curry, who reported the incident to police, repaired the window yesterday.

He said last night, "The police told me to produce the offenders and they would prosecute."

Tomatoes were heaved on neighborhood porches along Queen street.

The window was broken between 8 and 9 p. m. Sunday.

Last Friday night a Penn Village woman reported the theft of throw rugs from her washline and early Friday morning four youths were arrested for exploding firecrackers on borough streets.

Jeffersonville and Paoli State police have issued warnings against vandalism.

night, "We want to know just what is required of the fire companies at the dump. We want to go over the contract and see that everything is straightened out."

Chief Robert Roth of the Good Will Fire company said, "I'll tell the same thing I told council the past Monday."

Roth charged Woodley with lack of responsibility and co-operation.

Chairman John S. Frain of health and sanitation committee said, "We will try to work out a plan which will fit in with the present contract. If we provide the equipment to handle fires as stipulated in the contract, then it will be the responsibility of the garbage collector to maintain the dump."

J. Wayne Knause, chairman of finance committee, is expected to ask for a thorough investigation into the possibility of replacing the dump with an incinerator.

Woodley asserted, "I've got nothing to complain about."

Firemen have complained bitterly about fighting the rats and roaches on the dump.

Housewives have complained about the soot and smoke menace, and employees in East End industries have charged the borough with negligence to permit the dump menace to develop.

right." He was plummeted from his wooden seat and broke his neck in the fall, she asserted.

"He would have drowned if it hadn't been for the other fellows," Mrs. Hafer said, "because he couldn't get out."

"He was conscious the whole time," his mother continued. "He said he had the funniest feeling come over him. They brought a preacher right there because they didn't expect him to live. I guess he didn't think he'd live either."

"Then the preacher preached this sermon, and it lifted him up, and made him feel a lot better. His spirit is good now. He says, 'Oh, don't worry—I'll be all right again.'"

The accident happened at Larsen Air Force base, near Seattle, Wash. He is being flown to Walter Reed hospital for specialized treatment.

His father, a tire builder for Firestone Tire and Rubber company, flew out to Seattle the day after the family learned of the accident and was at his bedside in Madigan hospital, near Seattle, almost constantly until arrangements for the flight to Walter Reed were completed.

The son, in addition to being paralyzed from the waist down, has his head and neck in a complex brace.

HIS MOTHER said that after it was discovered he had a broken neck, he was flown to Madigan hospital in 17 minutes.

Mrs. Hafer said she was not clear as to the nature of the carnival, except that it was to raise funds for activities on the base.

Her son joined the Air Force three years ago. Before that, he had worked for Doehler-Jarvis division.

Earlier this year, the family had lived at 451 West High street, Stowe. Sergeant Hafer had attended West Pottsgrove High school.

He is the oldest of five children.

Borough's Warmest Oct. 19 Since 1945 Greets Residents

It was another perfect day—warm and dry—in the Pottstown area yesterday.

In fact, it was the warmest Oct. 19 since 1945.

Yesterday's high was 76, warm enough to bring men outdoors in shirtsleeves and open collars.

Girls on High street took advantage of the warmth and paraded in Summer dresses before putting them away for the winter.

Of course, yesterday didn't come so close to breaking the 1945 record of 83 degrees, but look out for today!

The forecast is for a high of 82 today. That would break a 17-year record. It was 80 on Oct. 20, 1936.

HAZY SKIES greeted early risers yesterday, leading some to remark that it was the result of smoke and dust in the atmosphere, mixed with some fog.

That there is plenty of dust around is not surprising. It hasn't rained since Oct. 7, when moderate showers failed to soak the drought-parched earth.

There will be some cloudiness today along with the expected record high. Tomorrow will be fair and warm.

Burglars Jimmy State Theater Door, Get $65 From Vending Machines

Between $55 and $65 was reported stolen at the State theater, North Reading avenue, Boyertown, some time late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Boyer town Police Chief Henry E. Groff reported that entrance to the theater was gained by jimmying the exit door on the side of the theater between the theater and an apartment building.

He reported that George H. Kline, theater owner, reported $25 taken from the cigarette vending machine; another $20 from the soft drink machine and between $10 and $20 from a popcorn vending machine.

Several small closets and a desk drawer were also opened but nothing was reported missing from them.

Similar burglaries occurred in a West Reading theater Friday night and in the Strand theater, Pottstown, some time Sunday night.

Chief Groff and Boyertown patrolmen Grant M. Groff and William M. Hoffman are investigating, along with State Policeman John Ripka, fingerprint expert.

Loss Totals $475 As Auto Collides With Parked Sedan

Two cars were damaged to the extent of an estimated $475 as an auto struck a parked sedan at Boyer and East Fifth streets, Boyertown, yesterday at 1:25 p. m.

A 1953 four-door sedan operated by Lydia Dierolf, Mill street, Boyertown, and owned by John Weand, 20 East Fifth street, Boyertown, struck the parked car of William W. Lambert, 12 East Fifth street, Boyertown. Lambert's 1950 two-door sedan was damaged to the extent of approximately $300 while the Dierolf-operated car resulted in approximately $175 damage.

According to a statement made by Mrs. Dierolf to the investigating officer, William M. Hoffman she had felt ill and decided to visit a doctor's office. She was pulling away from the curb at the Weand home when she told Hoffman it seemed as though she suddenly "blackened out."

Mrs. Howard Heath Elected Chairman Of Youth Council

Mrs. Howard Heath was named chairman of Pottstown youth council last night when the group elected permanent officers for the coming year. Mrs. Heath has served as temporary chairman since the group's founding. Also elected were Charles Fegley, secretary, and Paul Feight, treasurer.

Fifty persons attended the meeting at the Senior High school, including representatives of the High school, Junior High school, Tri Hi-Y, St. Aloysius school and Mercy and Truth synagog.

Mrs. Heath reported that the council will be increased to include representatives of all of Pottstown's youth organizations. An advisory board of adults will be elected at a meeting Nov. 9 in room 108 at the Senior High school.

The council announced last night that a leadership training session for adults interested in youth work will be held in the latter part of November. It will be headed by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Solomon.

The first prize winner will receive a $25 war bond, second prize is $10, and there will be three additional prizes of $5 each.

Flames Gut Old Sedan; Cigaret Believed Cause

The upholstery in an old sedan, parked in front of a Parkerford home, was destroyed by fire last night.

Fire in the 1939 sedan, owned by Mrs. Alice Parks, was discovered by a visitor at the Parks' home.

Firemen from the Linfield Fire company rushed to the scene and doused flames with water from their booster tank.

Probable cause of the fire was a smoldering cigarette in the back seat, firemen said. The car had been in use earlier in the evening and then was parked in front of the home.

When the fire was discovered at 8 p. m. the car was full of smoke.

Affection Is Good Medicine, Professor Says

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(Associated Press Writer)

If parents give their children what they need emotionally as well as physically, there is no need to be fearful about how they will grow up.
Dr. Frank E. Coburn, associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Iowa, gave this advice to parents of children attending a speech clinic there.

Dr. Coburn explained that children have a tendency to grow up healthy mentally as well as physically, pointing out:

"We need not be fearful over those physical illnesses which we can control by inoculation, proper diet, sleep and clothing. Some physical illnesses such as certain infections we cannot prevent, but there is no use to disturb our lives about them. The thing to do is get adequate treatment."

Parents need to meet their children's needs for love, affection, tolerance, understanding, discipline, a chance to express their resentment and the opportunity to grow up and become independent of their parents, Dr. Coburn said. He explained:

"Almost all parents love their children, but some parents do not get this fact across to them. It is important that the child know he is loved by his parents. His major verbal contact with his parents should not be during criticism only."

"We need to go out of our way to praise our children when they do well. Sometimes we can set up tasks for the child to do for which praise can be given easily, but we should remember not to expect adult achievement."

Discipline can actually be an expression of parental affection, Dr. Coburn said, since setting limits on the child's behavior makes him feel more comfortable and secure.

It is important to ask of children only what is really necessary and then be consistent in seeing that it is carried out, he said. Punishment, when necessary, should fit the "crime," he continued, and should be of short enough duration that the child is reassured promptly that he is still loved.

Dr. Coburn advised parents to avoid condemning their child's personality, but explained that it is all right to find fault with a specific element in the child's behavior. He said:

"To tell the child he is 'bad' gives him no guide for improvement, but criticism of specific behavior suggests something specific for him to do about it."

Though every child probably hates his parents at times, this does not mean that he fails to love them deeply. The parent should be big enough to let his children express some of this natural resentment, Dr. Coburn said. He explained:

"Actually we're making little liars of hypocrites out of them if we make them behave 'nice' to us when they feel 'nasty' to us."

To be sure that children will become independent adults, parents gradually must give them more and more responsibility, withdrawing parental supervision as rapidly as the child is able to demonstrate good judgment.

Braised Cuts of Beef Are Flavorful, Tender

Want to know how to braise those lean cuts of beef so they'll have good flavor and be tender? Brown the meat thoroughly in a small amount of fat, then add a small amount of liquid and cook very slowly, covering the utensil tightly.

Add seasonings to taste — a bay leaf, peppercorns, a whole clove or two, a stalk of celery, sliced onion, carrot strips. When the meat is really tender, strain the gravy in the pan, reheat and serve with the beef.

After Excitement of Football Game, Treat Guests to Meal Featuring Chili Con Carne

Crisp, bright weather, the excitement of that final touchdown, the gaiety of stadium crowds on an autumn Saturday—these are as much a part of Fall as the fragrance of burning leaves.

And, after the games, there's more fun to follow when you take your own crowd home for supper.

Even if the home team loses, nobody will mind too much as long as there's the prospect of a delicious hot supper in the offing. Nothing could be more welcome to your chilled-to-the-bone guests than piping hot chili con carne pie.

With the chili pie as the center of the meal, you won't need much to round out the menu. Corn bread, green salad, your favorite pie and steaming coffee complete a truly heart-warming supper.

Chili Con Carne Pie

1 pound lean beef, ground.
2 tablespoons fat or salad oil.
1½ teaspoons salt.
½ teaspoon pepper.

1 to 2 tablespoons chili powder.
1 garlic clove, minced.
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce.
½ cup hot water.

2 cans kidney beans.
1 4-ounce package salty corn chips.

1 medium onion finely chopped.
½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese.

Cook meat in fat or salad oil stirring occasionally with a fork until browned and crumbly. Add salt, pepper, chili powder and garlic.

Stir in tomato sauce, water and kidney beans. Simmer until thick.

THIS LITTLE girl frightened all her schoolmates at West Pottsgrove school yesterday morning by passing out while playing shortly before noon.

She's Mary Ann Razmylowski, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Razmylowski, 367 Howard street, Stowe, and is here being checked at Pottstown hospital.

Her doctor last night said the girl's condition was "good" but that she still was under observation.

Pottstown Woman In 'Good' Condition Following Accident

A Pottstown woman, injured in a two-car accident along High street early yesterday afternoon, said last night from her Memorial hospital bed that she felt "a little rough."

Mrs. Miriam Sopha, 35, of 858 Logan street, said she stopped in front of the 156 High street store of Harry W. Overholtzer to make a left turn.

She explained she had her left turn signal blinking and was hand-signaling when she was struck from the rear by a car driven by Catherine Endy, 38, of 1207 Beech street.

Although the front seat was broken and her little son was tossed into the back seat, he came out of the accident unscathed.

Mr. and Mrs. Overholtzer rushed Mrs. Sopha to the hospital. She was admitted for observation.

A hospital spokesman reported her condition was "good."

Miss Endy was treated at the hospital for nose and face injuries.

Brotherhoods to Talk On Communism Fight

"Lutheran brotherhoods vs. Communism" will be discussed at the meeting of the Grace Lutheran brotherhood tonight.

The meeting will be held in the church basement at 7:30 o'clock—a half-hour earlier than usual.

Harold Eschbach, program chairman, will introduce two visiting discussion leaders.

They will be Alfred Myer, Sellersville, president of L. E. Norristown conference brotherhood, and Harvey Walton, Doylestown, secretary.

The two visitors will begin with a brief review of the background and purpose of the brotherhood movement. From this they will turn to the discussion of Communism, which is the topic of the month.

THIS MEETING will mark the 26th birthday of the Grace brotherhood and the 35th of the conference group, Chairman Eschbach remarked last night.

Men of the Emmanuel and St. Peter's (Stowe) brotherhoods have been invited to attend the meeting.

President I. George Shaner will be in charge. Devotions will be led by Joseph Hutt.

Dames For Insurance 2980

Also taking part will be North Coventry schools and schools in West and Lower Pottsgrove.

Pupils of Upper Pottsgrove will have classes as usual. The school will not take the day off because of the week off it enjoyed recently during well-digging operations.

BURGESS BACKS —

who would handle examinations and all costs of the program would be financed by the county ($5 per examination and $15 for each appearance in court).

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden has written to the president of the county association and requested his co-operation on the program.

Pottstown has been without a police physician or any responsible system to examine drunken drivers for the past five years.

Not since the resignation of Dr. Harry K. Marcy Jr. has there been a police physician in the borough.

The burgess explained, "Certainly I'm willing to go along with the program. I'm willing to go for any program which will improve the situation."

ON THE parking ban along North Franklin street from High to Beech streets, the burgess said the law could not be enforced until the signs are erected.

He said he did not know when the signs would be erected. Griffith broke a tie vote in council this past Sept. 14 which put the disputed ordinance on the books.

Police committee recommended the ordinance because of "wink-and-turn row," a line of old trees which have grown over the curbing and have caused numerous accidents along the narrow street in past years.

The burgess, who heads the police department, will be in charge of enforcing the ordinance and the construction of the proper signs so that the law can be legally binding.

A spokesman for the borough highway department said the signs along North Franklin street probably will be constructed this week, weather permitting.

Nine parking meters in the new restricted zone have been removed and re-installed along Apple street, between Franklin and Evans streets, along with four other meters.

JP POSTS —

pointed secretary of the board for a number of years.

ADDING to the political unrest in South Coventry are charges by Constable Howard G. Seibold that the board ignored a money bill he submitted for working nearly three hours on an accident this past Spring, and that Robert R. Conway, township police officer is serving warrants that Seibold as an elected officer should serve.

Seibold charged last night, "I was called out on an accident this past Spring by a township resident who told me the electric company needed my service."

"I went out on the job for nearly three hours. It was impossible to get Conway at the time."

Seibold, after submitting the $3.13 for 2½ hours work, received the following letter from Loomis: "Dear Howard, I received the bill you sent for services rendered to the South Coventry township on April 11. This bill should have been mailed or handed to our secretary, Mr. William S. Symons, and to whom I have given the same."

"What action the road board will take I do not know, however, I would suggest that you come to our meeting on Monday evening, May 4, which will be held at the South Coventry school, to answer any question which the board may ask."

Seibold received a subsequent letter from Symons which read, "Dear Sir, Your bill mailed to the amount of $3.13 for services on April 11, 1953, at Bucktown, was presented to the board and upon investigation by the board, it was denied by the electric company that they called you out."

"The township police officer was available and as he was not called as he should have been, the board would not approve your bill."

Seibold angrily asserted, "I don't care about $3.13. It's the principle of the thing. People of South Coventry know that I have done many things in my years as constable free of charge."

"It seems mighty funny to me that I can do a lot of work for Dan Gudin (Chief Daniel W. Gudin) in North Coventry and don't get any work in my own township, while Conway, who lives in Norco can come over in our township and serve as township officer."

"I never complained about Conway. But I understand he was named by the board to patrol township highways."

CONWAY, a watchman at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, also serves as a part-time officer in Elverson.

When the road board appointed him to the job more than a year ago, they refused to release his name.

It was pointed out at the time they didn't want too many persons in the township to know he was on patrol. They said they wanted to crackdown on traffic violators.

The most common complaint against the South Coventry officer is his policy of hauling motorists, arrested on summary charges, immediately before a justice of the peace.

Several days after Conway was named to his new post, Symons told The Mercury he did not wish to release information on traffic violators, because the fact that they were arrested was enough, without getting additional publicity.

NEWSTIPS —

Pottstown RD 3 man felled a deer with a bow and arrow.

The sports department quickly turned that tip into another interesting, top story.

John Waycock, 373 South street, picked up the third cash prize of $2 with a tip on an accident on Route 422 in which five persons were injured.

Steven J. Rozsas Jr., 320

North Charlotte street, was awarded one of the bonus cash prizes for his tip on the layoffs at Jacobs Aircraft Engine plant. Once again, a tip made it possible for The Mercury to be there first with the most about a story.

The death of a highway worker from burns in Pine Forge was the tip that gave Brooke Fritz, Pine Forge, another of the cash awards.

If you have a tip, don't hesitate. Call 6000 (Mercury switchboard) and say "Newstip." It'll take only a minute of your time and may pay off in cash for you.

Employee Loses Hand In Farm Accident

Lloyd Stager, 47, Pottstown RD 3, was resting comfortably in Pottstown hospital last night after undergoing blood transfusions and an operation for the loss of his left hand.

The employee of Laurel Locks Farm, North Coventry, suffered the amputation of his left hand, according to hospital authorities, when the hand became caught in a corn picker.

COHILL SOUNDS —

Fund's operation here. The goal this year is 24 percent higher than the $146,000 collected the past year, but 10 percent lower than the goal then was.

Cohill was chairman of a United Fund drive in Akron which went over the top in a goal which exceeded two million dollars.

The guest speaker emphasized the fact that "while we are only individuals, if we have a good idea and can sell that idea to others, we can accomplish wonders."

"Let's make this a happy campaign and get into the enthusiasm of giving," he said.

Cohill stressed the point that expenses for the United Fund drive earning, the looser the living in many cases, and the greater amount of broken homes, uncared for children and generally needy persons," he explained.

BARTHOLOMEW said at the start of the dinner talks that "there is a sense of satisfaction out of doing things for others."

"To the extent that we succeed in imbuing people with that sense, is the extent we will be successful in this drive," he said.

He complimented Wylie and Keiser for their "terrific work" and described them as "experienced campaigners who won't take no for an answer and know how to ask for enough."

Bartholomew also had a word of praise for Vinicio Fisher, executive secretary of the fund.

"Vin does all the work, but we take the credit," he quipped.

Introduced at the head table were:

Ernest T. Handley, one of the 27 fund directors; Douglas V. O'Dell, president of the fund; Roger Firestone, one of the directors from the Firestone company, and the Rev. Maurice E. Hoover, pastor of Seales Methodist church, who gave the invocation.

FOUR MAJOR groupings have been decided upon to simplify the solicitations. The categories, and their chairmen who also were introduced at the dinner are:

O. C. Beacraft, townships; Robert E. Jeffries, industrial; Mrs. Melvin Feroe and Mrs. Samuel Keiser, residential, and Thomas A. McCaslin 3d and Benjamin A. Longaker, classified.

Colorful campaign posters by Pottstown High school pupils were displayed on one wall and featured such slogans as:

"If you care enough, give enough"; "Everybody gives—everybody benefits"; "Put all your eggs in one ask it".

Kenneth Nichols was master of ceremonies at the dinner. The Ray Elliot Ensemble provided dinner music through the courtesy of the local American Federation of Musicians.

The Manthorne players, a local group, presented a skit dramatizing the need for giving to the United Fund.

Table decorations were by the Junior Service league.

Area Schools Declare Holiday Tomorrow

Pottstown and area public school pupils will have a holiday tomorrow.

Pupils in all public schools in the borough will have no classes because of Business Education Day activities which will last through most of the day.

Also taking part will be North Coventry schools and schools in West and Lower Pottsgrove.

Pupils of Upper Pottsgrove will have classes as usual. The school will not take the day off because of the week off it enjoyed recently during well-digging operations.

23 Perish When Airplane Crashes Enroute to Falcon Dam Dedication

FALCON DAM, Oct. 19 (AP)—More than 20 persons, including some of Mexico's top newspaper reporters and entertainers, were killed in an airplane crash today while enroute to the meeting of US President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mexico's President, Adolfo Ruiz Cortinez.

TALKS TO POWS ARE STALLED ON ISSUE OF FORCE

Two Delegates Reported To Have Quit Commission

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Oct. 20 (AP)—Angry Czech and Polish members reportedly walked out on the Neutral Nations Repatriation commission yesterday, a break that may portend collapse of Communist attempts to persuade 22,400 anti-Red prisoners to return home.

The Government-owned C-47 plane left Monterrey at 7 a. m. with a load of newsmen and officials for Falcon Dam for the meeting of Presidents.

The 23-passenger plane, completely wrecked on the side of a deep ravine, was sighted this afternoon 16 miles northeast of Monterrey. There apparently were no survivors.

The National Fine Arts institute listed six male and seven woman dancers and three other persons of the Gloria Mestre ballet who were aboard. The dancers were to participate in the entertainment for the Presidents.

THE AIRLIFT carrying officials, entertainers and reporters to the dam had planes taking off every few minutes, and no full records were kept of who went in the plane.

The first parties to reach the scene said these were among the identified dead:

Carlos Violante, top diplomatic reporter for El Universal; Carlos Septien Garcia, editor of El Universal's weekly magazine; Raul Rojas and Miguel Espinosa of Noticias Continental, a newsreel; Francisco De P. Carriedo of Ova-ciones.

The pilot, Ruben Velasco, and the other two crew members were among the dead.

A reporter flying over the scene said there were indications the pilot had been flying in a haze and became trapped in a ravine. He said it looked like as though he was trying to climb out of the 400-foot deep ravine and almost made it, but crashed 30 feet from the top.

The nose of the plane appeared completely wrecked, and was partly buried.

Although only 16 miles from Monterrey the crash scene is in rugged territory, difficult for rescuers to reach. There are no nearby roads.

THE NEWS that the plane wreckage, apparently burned, had been sighted from the air, was announced by Col. Radames Gaxiola, chief of staff of the Mexican Air Force and personal pilot to the Mexican President. He said the position was about 16 miles northeast of Monterrey. There was no indication there were any survivors.

Charges of Violence, Wild Parties Fly As John Wayne Divorce Suit Begins

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. John Wayne today charged her movie star husband with violence, drunkenness and attending wild parties as they bitterly contested divorce action began in Superior court.

She charged in a list of 22 specifications filed by her attorney.

In Mexico after a party he called her obscene names, threw a glass of water in her face and doused her with rubbing alcohol.

At a dinner party in Honolulu he became "belligerent" and threw her shawl in the mud, then later, after she left his hotel room, pounded on her door and called her vile names.

At another party in Mexico he picked her up by the foot and dragged her around the room.

The former Esperanza Baur also accused him of coming home many hours late from a party at the home of actress Gail Russell.

Wayne denied this and countered with specifications of his own which accuse his wife of neglecting her household duties and falsely accusing him of striking her.

Wayne said that his wife's "excessive drinking" caused her to fall often and receive many bruises. Later, he said, she would tell friends that Wayne hit her.

Mrs. Wayne said her husband refused to take her to a party given after the completion of the movie.

RED PLANE READIED FOR TESTS—The MIG-15 delivered to the US Air Force near Seoul the past month by a North Korean pilot is shown under guard at Okinawa as it was being readied for one of a series of tests by Air Force specialists to determine performance characteristics. Pilots particularly noted the lack of automatic equipment. The MIG, now bearing US Air Force markings, was dismantled in Korea and flown to Okinawa in a C-124 Globemaster.

REDS WILL MEET WITH US ENVOY ON TRUCE PLANS

Communists Want to Talk On Neutral Nation Issue

TOKYO, Tuesday, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Communists yesterday agreed to meet with a US envoy next Monday at Panmunjom to arrange for the Korean peace conference, originally scheduled to begin Oct. 28.

But in accepting, the Communists in a note broadcast by Peiping radio once more insisted on discussing which nations shall attend. This is the very issue that has balked all efforts to get the momentous sessions started.

A US spokesman at the United Nations said US Representative, Arthur Dean, would fly to Panmunjom later this week for the talks. Dean, special State department consultant, will be accompanied by a half dozen advisers and will pick up others in Tokyo and Seoul.

The United States, after consulting its Allies in the Korean war, sent the Communists a note the past week proposing a meeting at Panmunjom to select a time and place for the peace conference.

THE US NOTE said the Allies would be ready to discuss the question of neutrals attending the peace conference "to the extent consistent with" previous decisions made by the United Nations.

The Communists want Russia, India, Pakistan, Indonesia and Burma to attend. The United States would agree only to Russia, and then only if the Soviets were invited by Red China and North Korea. The United Nations backed the United States.

Thus it appeared likely that the Panmunjom meeting would bog down in an argument over the neutral nation question.

In yesterday's note, Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China made clear he believed the question of neutral nations participating was more important than settling the time and place.

He said that his Government "deems that in these (Panmunjom) discussions there could be included the settlement of the place and time" but that "what is more essential, these discussions should settle the question of composition of the political (peace) conference."

Handling of Suitcases Is Questioned In Probe of Missing Kidnap Money

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19 (AP)—The policeman whose work led to the solution of the Greenlease kidnap case today became the central figure himself in an inquiry into reports the FBI has discovered discrepancies in police accounts of the case.

The investigation conducted by Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell centered around the handling of two suitcases in which nearly half of the $600,000 ransom payment was recovered. Some $300,000 of the payment still is missing.

Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, who arrested the kidnap-killer of Bobby Greenlease, 6, was under a physician's care for a nervous condition and was reported unable to appear at this time at the closed hearing.

Shoulders, whose ailment was attributed by the physician to the lieutenant's work on the case, withheld from newsmen a full explanation of the reported discrepancies, but said:

"I can explain to the proper authorities every move I made."

Shoulders was excused from questioning today as the police chief began the investigation ordered by the St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners.

THE FIRST to be questioned was Patrolman Elmer Dolan, who accompanied Shoulders the night of Oct. 6 when they arrested Carl Austin Hall, 34, the confessed killer of the boy. Dolan was questioned for several hours.

The arrest of Hall and his partner in the crime, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, followed a tip to Shoulders by taxi driver John Hager that Hall was armed and spending money on a lavish scale.

Also on hand for questioning was Patrolman Elmer Dolan, who accompanied Shoulders the night of Oct. 6 when they arrested Carl Austin Hall, 34, the confessed killer of the boy. Dolan was questioned for several hours.

NEW ROMANCE—Sheppard King, heir to a Texas oil fortune who became "Abdullah" when he married Egyptian dancer Gamia Gamal, finds wooing less exotic in Washington, D. C., where he holds hands with Helen Fiske Smith, "Miss Washington of 1953."

While he was announcing their engagement, Neila Ates, Turkish dancer in a New York night club, decided to end her engagement.

west of Monfalcone and from around Gradisca, 12 miles to the north.

The soldiers were dressed in waterproof camouflaged ponchos, reminiscent of those worn by US Marines in World War II.

Artillery pieces were placed under trees and were covered with camouflage netting. A few light tanks, gun carriers, field kitchen units, tents, and a hospital tent were so well disguised they could scarcely be seen 30 yards away.

troops, tanks, and artillery of the division moved under cover of early morning darkness into the area a few miles north of the shipbuilding city of Monfalcone on the Gulf of Trieste. They were the first Italian troops known to have been thrown across a possible Yugoslav entry route toward the narrow neck which connects British-American occupied Zone A of Trieste with Italy.

They also are the first Italian soldiers to move within a few miles of Zone A, on which Yugoslav President Marshal Tito has threatened to march if a single Italian soldier enters the zone after British and American forces withdraw.

The camouflaged troops began digging in within sight of the hills across the Yugoslav frontier. Many of the units are less than two miles from the border and within seven miles of Zone A.

THE WHOLE TROOP movement was unknown to villagers living a short distance away. Not a sign of the units could be seen from a highway running along the head of the Adriatic sea. Only a few telltale field telephone wires gave evidence that troops were near.

Troops of the highly trained, trim-looking Italian division came from Cervignano, about 12 miles from the border.

Discussions, Reports Predominate In Problems of Democracy Classes

By CLAUDETTE RONDUM
Senior Problems of Democracy classes in North Coventry are very different from usual classes. We use the book only as foundation material. Most of the class consists of reports and informal discussion.
Just recently we had the privilege of hearing first hand about some of the peoples of the world, their problems and what they think of Americans.
Jake Malenke, of Parkerford, showed color movies and told the entire Senior class about Mexico, Central America, and parts of the Far East. It gave our class a chance to see the things which we have heard so much about in courses of social study.
At present, topics under discussion are clear thinking and inter-cultural understanding. We are talking about ways to promote harmony and contentment among all peoples.

Senior Class Holds Tryouts for Play

By WILBUR YOCOM
The Senior class has chosen as its class play, "Sky High," a mystery comedy by Florence Ryserson and Alice D. G. Miller. The cast consists of nine male and five female characters. Tryouts for the play have been held but as yet, no definite roles have been given. The play is to be given Tuesday night, Nov. 24 in the Elementary building auditorium. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Harry Clark.
Also in the news spot light this week was the election of editor and business manager of the yearbook. April Asco was elected editor-in-chief and Ruth Gorman business manager. Other people are signing up for work on the yearbook, "The Torch."

There was a three-way tie for third prize between David Kline and Arthur Airey of Norco and Harry Nostrie of Spring City. Each of these received a book on the subject of cattle.

The prizes were given by the shorthorn milking breeders association.

RANDY TURPIN GETS SLIM BACKING FROM EXPERTS TO COP TITLE

Georgia Tech Risks Longest Unbeaten String Against Irish

ATLANTA, Oct. 19 (AP)—Has Georgia Tech, after a sluggish start, found its form and power in time to knock favored Notre Dame off the nation's football throne?

Tech coach Bobby Dodd, whose team is the underdog for the first time since early in 1951, says he doesn't know.

"Our squad has improved but it still is not a great football team," that usually optimistic Dodd said today. "I have to keep harping on this theme, but we're just not as good as Notre Dame. But our boys will be keyed up to play a fine football game."

Tech will carry to South Bend the nation's longest undefeated string—29 victories and two ties. None of the Yellow Jacket regulars ever tasted defeat in a college game.

Tech's national ranking—sixth before Saturday's 36-6 conquest of previously unbeaten Auburn—teetered and tottered early in the season. The Jackets were held to a scoreless tie by Florida on a windy, rain-swept field and to a 6-4 victory by Southern Methodist.

SOME OF the old spark which carried Tech to a perfect season last year reappeared in the 27-13 defeat of Tulane and the Jackets looked even better against Auburn. But can they whip the fast, tough and tricky Irish? "I just don't know what the outcome will be," replied Dodd. Notre Dame holds a 14-2 edge in the series.

"One thing I'm proud of," he added. "We're in pretty good shape physically. Roger Frey, our starting left tackle, may be out for the season with a bad knee, but our only other injured player is Sam Hensley, who got a Charlie horse and some bruises in the Auburn game."

Hensley, No. 1 left end, is expected to play, however.

Dodd expressed pleasure at the way his backfield aces are returning to their fine form of last year. He mentioned halfback Leon Hardeman, fullback Glenn Turner and quarterback Bill Brigman. Turner has looked good all season, but Hardeman hit his stride against Auburn.

"Brigman is one of the most improved players on the squad," the coach reported. "He has more poise and his passing is improving."

BRIGMAN COMPLETED all five passes he threw against Tulane and hit five of seven against Auburn.

Has Tech worked up any new plays to throw at Notre Dame?

"No, we haven't had a chance to," said Dodd. "We had to get ready for Auburn last week. We begin preparing for Notre Dame today, just the same as for any other team."

Dodd plans to substitute by team units as he did against Auburn. He probably will start halfback Charlie Brannon instead of Billy Teas, Hardeman's sidekick of last year, to add defensive strength to his No. 1 unit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—What's with Randy Turpin? That's the puzzle for the fight mob trying to stab a winner as odds favoring Bobo Olson hold steady at 11 to 5 in Wednesday's middleweight title bout at Madison Square Garden.

Olson is a know quant. The baldish Hawaiian is a busy, cute fighter without too much wallop. Turpin used to be a rugged, awkward fighter who manhandled Sugar Ray Robinson like he never was handled before. But what is he today?

The British Negro did his best to confuse the experts with his sporadic training at Grossinger, N. Y. He had three capable sparring partners but boxed only five times in three weeks. In the last week he worked only once, or, at least, only once publicly.

"He hasn't done enough boxing to suit me," said Jack Solomons, the London promoter. "When I watched him he appeared out of distance (off on his timing). "I talked to George (manager George Middleton) on the telephone today and he was as happy as could be. He said he didn't want to tell me his weight on the phone but not to worry."

"I WAS NOT impressed by the Olson that fought Hairston (Eugene Hairston, who was stopped by Bobo in 1952). Perhaps he has improved since then but a man that can't punch hard can't beat a Turpin."

American managers and trainers, baffled by Turpin's strange training routine, are picking Olson almost to a man.

"He's a better fighter," said Whitey Bimstein, veteran trainer.

"I saw him (Olson) when he was just a punk kid, boxing Tommy Yarosz. He can do anything the other guy does and keep going all night."

"What do we know about Turpin?" said Harry Stickers, manager of Paddy Young who lost to Olson in the American title bout last June. "I've got to lean to Olson. Paddy feels the same way."

Before he left for Paris, Al Weill, Rocky Marciano's manager, advised, "pick Olson and don't make a mistake." Irving Cohen, manager of Rocky Graziano, a former middle king, also picks Bobo.

Dan Florio, who trains Roland La Starza and Paddy Young, is torn between two loyalties. "I'll root for Turpin because Paddy might get to fight him but I lean to Olson. He's smart, cute and takes a good punch."

FREDDIE BROWN, veteran corner man, casts a solid dissenting vote.

"I like Turpin to knock him out," said Brown. "When he hits him, he'll know he's got hit. Young staggered Olson a few times and did nothing about it. Olson is too slow for this fellow. He's a real strong guy."

Nat Rogers and Eddie Walker, two managers who have seen the best come and go, are in the Olson camp.

"He's awkward clever, if you know what I mean," said Rogers. "I saw Turpin in a six rounder in 1947. I think he was a better fighter than he is today. Olson will wear him down."

"Olson is a heady fighter," said Walker. "He's a plugger, keeps going all the time. Turpin wastes too much time, trying to make the other guy miss."

Joe Vellar, former manager of Gus Lesnevich, called Olson a "better fighter." He added, "I never thought much of the other guy."

While the fight crowd talked about the scrap, the two principals took it easy. Turpin reportedly did seven miles on the road and went shopping. Olson ran 4½ miles and lapsed in the gym for 45 minutes at Asbury Park, N. J. Bobo weighed 161 pounds. Both will come to New York tomorrow.

Coaches Praise Orange Bowl Pact of Big Seven, ACC

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Orange Bowl's two-year pact with the Big Seven and Atlantic Coast conferences was praised by coaches and college officials today as a step toward taking some of the taint of commercialism off post-season football.

Under the agreement, the two conferences will supply the teams for the next two Orange Bowl games. Oklahoma and Maryland are favored to dominate the two circuits this season and meet here next New Year's Day in the first game under the pact.

Missouri's coach Don Faurot said he had always favored Bowl games "where they are under the control of the colleges and the money is divided among all Conference members, so the rich don't get richer and the poor poorer."

Each team will be guaranteed $110,000 for the 1954 game and $112,000 for the 1955 game. The Big Seven team playing in the Bowl will turn 80 percent of its purse over to the conference, to be divided equally among the other member schools.

ACC Commissioner Wallace Wade was enthusiastic over the agreement because "it takes out all the worry and some of the commercialism. The latter feature makes it acceptable to the faculty people."

The Big Seven will send its champion to the 1954 game. The ACC will have to vote on its representative because the conference was just recently organized and will not be able to determine a true champion through round-robin schedules for two years.

Executive Secretary Reaves E. Peters said the Big Seven will not permit the same team to go to the Orange Bowl two years in a row. At present, Wade said the ACC has no rule which would prevent a team from playing in Miami both years of the agreement.

In voting on its representative, Wade said the ACC would have to taken into consideration games played outside the conference. Thus, Duke's chances will suffer because of its 14-13 loss to Army in New York last week.

At this stage of the campaign, Maryland looks like the class of the ACC. Besides Duke, the other members are North Carolina, Clemson, Wake Forest, South Carolina, Virginia and North Carolina State.

OKLAHOMA is expected to win the championship of the Big Seven which also includes Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Kansas State and Iowa State.

Kansas Coach Jules Sikes expressed pleasure over the two-year agreement and said "prospects are bright for it to become permanent." Maryland's Coach Jim Tatum also gave hearty approval to the pact, declaring "The team which goes to the Orange Bowl may expect the best of everything . . ."

Bert Bell Reports NFL Attendance Increase of 72,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP)—Bouncy Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football league, made his annual report to the New York football writers today.

He said:
1. Attendance in the first 24 games is 72,000 above that of last year—an average of 3000 a game—and the league is headed for an all-time crowd mark.

2. The pro circuit is so evenly balanced that every club in it will lose at least three games. The Cleveland Browns currently are the league's only unbeaten team.

3. Salaries are 400 percent above what they were 10 years ago and can be met only because of added television receipts.

4. Pro football is a "lousy business" with only four of the 12 clubs in the black. "You go to a bank and try to borrow money on it and they'll shut the door in your face."

5. THE NFL will win the television suit brought by the government because "We're not going to stand for socialized medicine and we're not going to stand for socialized TV."

The squat, husky-voiced pro executive said the pro teams offer their games on 150 outlets during a 24-hour period starting Saturday night and "no other program has as many outlets unless it's the President of the United States."

"We give the people plenty of television," he added. But we're going to protect our home gate. We're not going to permit television of home games. And we're going to win the suit."

The NFL is on the Government anti-trust carpet, charged with entering into a conspiracy to restrain trade. The case is still in Federal court.

Speaking of the league generally, Bell said attendance is up because of the closeness of the race and the "rough, tough but clean show we give the fans."

"I DON'T THINK any club can escape losing three games," he added. "And I don't mean to throw any reflection on Cleveland, which is unbeaten. The Browns have a great ball club and Otto Graham (Cleveland quarterback) is having his greatest year."

"But this is a well-balanced league. A team can run up a 21-point lead and still be in danger of losing. No team can stay up for 12 consecutive Sundays."

The oldest five-man team in American Bowling Congress competition was the Citizen's Bank team of Vermillion, S. D. The average was 69.8.

The heaviest player on the Florida State football squad is 245-pound sophomore Tom Feamster of Warwick, Va.

Redlegs Sign Raffy; Garrison Released

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19 (AP)—Kenny Raffensberger, veteran left-handed pitcher, has signed a contract for next year with the Cincinnati Redlegs, it was learned today.

Raffy, whose control and soft stuff failed him last Summer, will be starting his seventh full season with Cincinnati. Announcement that he had signed for 1954 came from the office of baseball commissioner Ford Frick.

Raffensberger won only seven games while losing 14 last season. He started 26. In six full seasons the veteran has won 83 games and lost 92. His best year was in 1952, when he won 17 games and lost 13.

Ed Bailey, who caught for Tulsa Oilers in the Texas league last Summer, also has signed a contract for 1954 with the Redlegs.

The unconditional release of Ford Garrison as coach also was disclosed. He came to Cincinnati with Rogers Hornsby.

Buster Mills, another coach who came here with Hornsby, was let go at his own request some time ago so he could accept a similar job with the Boston Red Sox.

Tigers Go Back To Fundamentals

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 19 (AP)—"We're going back to fundamentals," said Princeton football coach Charlie Caldwell as the Tigers ran through a light defensive workout here today.

Omitting the usual Monday afternoon showing of Saturday's game films, Caldwell ordered a defensive session against Cornell plays run by the Nassau Jayvees. Princeton meets the Big Red Saturday in Palmer stadium in a clash of Ivy league powers.

Caldwell admitted that the Tigers will probably be underdogs Saturday but denied that Navy's 65-7 triumph over Princeton could be compared with the Middles' 26-6 victory over Cornell. He also revealed that junior quarterback Dick Emery of Upper Montclair should be back in the starting lineup this week after sitting out two games.

Cincinnati's 1953 Redlegs set a club record in homers as early as July 19. On that date Ted Kluszewski hit number 111 which surpassed the old mark of 110 set by the 1938 team.

Floyd Patterson Scores Decision Over Bascom

BROOKLYN, Oct. 19 (AP)—Undeclared Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn won a unanimous eight round decision over Wes Bascom, East St. Louis, Ill., tonight at the Eastern Parkway arena before a crowd of 1500. Patterson weighed 166½ and Bascom 175½.

Patterson, 19-year-old light heavyweight, won his eighth in a row since turning pro. Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 6-1-1 while judge Tony Rossi scored it 5-2-1 and judge Artie Schwartz ruled it 7-1 in favor of the 1952 Olympic middleweight champion.

Patterson, the 3-1 favorite, started off fast in the first round but a right to the jaw by Bascom buckled Patterson's knees late in the round. In the second Patterson suffered a cut in the corner of the left eye which bled freely throughout the fight. In the third Patterson received a bloody nose which also gave him trouble throughout the fight.

In the fifth round Patterson connected with a left hook and right to the chin that staggered Bascom. In the sixth Patterson's best round, he landed left hooks to the jaw and short right hands to the head that had Bascom in trouble.

Early in the seventh a left hook to Bascom's head had the 24-year-old Bascom hanging on. However, late in the round Bascom who had been pressing the fight, sent a left hook and right to the head that sent Patterson into the ropes and made him hang on.

Dykes Stops McCoy
COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 19 (AP)—Slim Bobby Dykes, of Austin, Tex., connected with a looping right hand to knockout Al "Kid" McCoy tonight at 2:11 of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Another Feed at Public Trough?

SEVERAL years ago Burgess William A. Griffith put on a good-time-Charley act by taking his "official" family to dinner. Burgess Griffith, however, didn't pick up the check.

He saddled a bill of $192.50 on the public. He had the borough pay the bill!

This week Burgess Griffith is having the same group, the Montgomery County Boroughs association, meet in Pottstown.

With the usual Griffith evasiveness, the burgess refuses to say if he has invited the borough hall drones to eat at the public's expense.

All he'll say is: "All the officials get an invitation."

If the burgess this year saddles the cost of this feed on the public, there should a taxpayer's suit to surcharge councilmen who vote for payment.

There's no more reason why the borough hall clerks should eat at public expense, than there is for a Bethlehem Steel worker to charge his meals to the company. Imagine a Bethlehem Steel guy getting away with that!

Burgess Griffith has proved himself to have little regard for the public money. Recall his recent suggestion to hire a physician to examine alleged drunken drivers at $1000 a year? It turned out that fewer than 10 examinations are made a year. That'd come to $100 a visit to the doctor!

He should have seen his mistake years ago when he asked the borough to foot a $192.50 "free feed" bill. Public indignation ran high. He shouldn't make that same mistake twice.

A Way to Give
C. Beacraft, the automobile club tycoon who retired from active service only to find himself doing more work than ever in the interest of his community, has come up with a simple United Fund donation formula.

Mr. Beacraft is in charge of the workers in the townships around Pottstown. That means he alone covers almost as many homes as there are in Pottstown, because his area includes Lower, Upper and West Pottsgrove, Douglass, New Hanover and North Coventry townships, and the western half of Limerick township and Linfield.

He's in charge of hundreds of workers who will knock on doors to ask for contributions. Since all these townships use Pottstown agencies as much as Pottstonians, the people who live there are as anxious to donate. But how much shall they give?

Mr. Beacraft tells his workers that there's a simple answer.

"If the householder feels she'd give $1 every time a request for agency funds came to her door, then she should give $25," said the indefatigable Mr. Beacraft. "You see, there are 26 agencies in this drive."

"If the householder feels capable of giving 50 cents an agency, then she should subscribe $13."

"Now, it isn't necessary to give all of that $25 or $13 at once. Easy payments can be made. The donor can spread it over four payments; one-quarter with the subscription, then three equal installments spread over a year. That shouldn't be hard for any householder."

Mr. Beacraft pointed out that householders are saving themselves a lot of annoyance by making ONE contribution to the United Fund.

"Householders can eliminate 25 knocks at the door by giving ONCE to the United Fund," he said. "Imagine how annoying it would be to all if 26 knocks came on the door, 26 pleas for charity funds!"

The Beacraft plan sounds like a good one. It's recommended to rural persons for consideration. Decision should be made at once, because the house-to-house canvass will start today.

Mr. Beacraft's minions hope to raise $3695—and that ought to be easy in the populous townships around Pottstown. Last year the quota in this area was $2619. Mr. Beacraft should go over the top here!

How Much Do You Pay?
VERY few of us realize how much money we must pay in taxes—for the reason that so large a part of the tax burden is indirect.

Here is what the average families in the listed income brackets pay:

Four thousand dollars—$1093, or 27.3 percent of income; $7500—$2766, or 36.9 percent of income; $10,000—$4005, or 40 percent of income.

Keep that in mind next time you hear the hoary old argument that only the well-to-do and the rich need really worry about taxes.

Those Brooklyn Dodgers may be no great shakes in winning a world series, but they sure keep their name in the papers.

I Pennsylvania a hunter shot a buffalo. Probably a refugee from one of those TV western movies!

WASHINGTON
Kremlin Helping to Stir Current World Stew
By J. M. ROBERTS JR.

Ray Tucker is on vacation. Prichitt for him is Associated Press news analyst J. M. Roberts Jr.

Just a few weeks ago things seemed to be looking better for the Western world.

It was bolstered by the Korean truce, the German elections, the decision of France to go ahead with the European Defense Community, and by indications from Russia that she could use a period of lessened tension.

Today even the most cursory glance at the dangerous situations which have developed gives one a queasy feeling in the stomach.

When the Big Three foreign ministers planned their London conference which has just ended they were primarily concerned with relations among themselves and Russia over Germany.

Before it was over they had to take cognizance of developments which even pushed this fundamental question into the background for a moment.

THE TRIESTE issue was smoking and capable of bursting into flame at any moment. So was the Israel-Arab situation a little farther East.

Things began to go bad for France in political negotiations designed to obtain greater support of the Indochinese States in the war with the Communists there.

Britain had a flareup in Guinea which pointed up America's critical apprehension about Communist progress in Latin-America.

Even as Secretary Dulles was returning to Washington, reports from Dhanran in the Persian Gulf brought word of a long-feared development in that oil-heavy but poorly lubricated area—a display of resentment against American interests in Arabia. It came at a time when Americans already were worried about the health of aged king Ibn Saud, with whom the oil deals are made.

AS THE DIPLOMATS sought to handle these questions, there was no slackening in the urgency of problems which were already pending.

The Communists agreed to meet with American negotiators at Panmunjom to make plans for the Korean conference. But they still were insisting on having neutral nations at the table. The United States, meanwhile, was denying a report growing out of the London conference that she was backing down on the subject.

At London the ministers drew up a new note to Russia about a meeting to consider the German problem, but there was nothing new in it as a bait for the reluctant Reds.

There was more hope for another proposal that the Big Three meet with Italy and Yugoslavia about Trieste. But Yugoslavia doesn't want it until the idea of giving Allied-held Zone A to Italy has been dropped. Italy doesn't want it until that has actually occurred.

There was no solution at any of the danger points which did not involve troublesome side-taking within the non-Communist camp.

The Kremlin men, if they wished, could just sit back and watch the world stew in its own juice. It was just the sort of situation they love to see. But they weren't just sitting back. They were putting in the stirring spoon at every opportunity, and had more spoons in reserve.

Lauds Crackdown
To the Editor: These recent cases of vandalism are becoming a menace, and I say "Hats off" to the police department for the crackdown they promised.

Of course, a promise doesn't mean everything, but in this case it looks like they mean it.

For young men who use Hallowe'en as an excuse for perpetrating outrageous acts against their fellow citizens, I have nothing but contempt.

It was good to read in The Mercury where the police had fined four offenders the other night.

Keep up the good work!

Idle-Hand Vandals
To the Editor: All this vandalism you hear so much about is nothing but the devil working through idle hands.

These young smart alecks should be made to work about 16 hours a day for a while. Maybe then they wouldn't feel so much like tearing around at night making trouble.

Trouble is that nowadays the parents are too soft-headed. Soon as a kid is 16 they buy him a car and let him run. On top of that he gets all the spending money he wants without working for it.

In my day I worked from sun-up until sundown, and I all got was room and board. If I didn't do my work I knew I'd be punished.

Believe me, I didn't feel like ramming around at night when I was young. I was dead tired and ready for bed as soon as I got dark.

Most others of my generation had it the same way. There wasn't any easy money in those days. No cars to go tearing around in to make trouble for decent people either.

There's too much prosperity these days and not enough work. It's ruining our young people. No wonder they don't have any respect for property.

Husband No Stooze
To the Editor: In reply to the letter of a "Disgrunted Flagg worker" (Lauds Strike Action, Readers Say, Oct. 15):

My husband is no company "stooze" and my former letter was sent of my own volition and was read by my husband for the first time in The Mercury.

Does this Flagg worker really believe that men in other plants make double $50 per week for the same type of work as is being done at Flagg's, by him?

Naturally, in every plant in the United States skilled workers are paid more than laborers.

Practically all workers at Flagg's were given the wrong impression. Notice of the last meeting of the union was posted the morning of the same day, implying it was a special meeting to inform them of the progress accomplished by the negotiating committee. Never dreaming an "aye" or "nay" vote would be taken to strike.

The union officials were asked by the company to continue working while the contract was being negotiated. This, they flatly refused!

Yet, these same men, themselves employees of Flagg's, negotiated the contract at Pottstown Metal Products to a satisfactory conclusion.

It is very gratifying to see many mothers feel as I do and hope we can get through to these union officials our desire for a settled domestic life again!

To the Editor: In answer to the letter from the "Collector" from Spring City: ("Seeks Solution," Readers Say, Oct. 15).

We are surely aware of the problems of out-of-town workers giving to the Pottstown United Fund.

First of all, we seek contributions at a person's place of employment because of the advantage of payroll deductions.

Secondly, between larger communities this balances out. For example, Pottstown residents working in Reading contribute to the Reading fund and visa versa.

But in the case of Spring City where there is little industry and services are comparatively limited, campaign officials might sit down with the Pottstown United Fund Board and discuss possible plans for a joint campaign or see what services could be made available to Spring City.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19.—Chances for Jean Simmons joining spouse Stewart Granger in England while he's making "Beau. Brummel" grow slimmer. Her high-paying contract with Howard Hughes calls for her to be available — and the gal won't risk being out of this country in case of a studio call. Even though the call isn't likely to come through — there being nothing on tap for Jean at R.K.O. However, we understand Granger's secretary, well-streaked Flo Allen, will bounce to Britain with Stew next month.

Flo used to go with Brian Donlevy—and we remember this tee, hee from those days: Miss A., in a snug sweater, alighted from Brian's station-wagon, parked in front of a "well-populated" drug store. (Translation: Schwabs). Then she stood talking to someone while leaning against the front door of the car. On it was painted, "Donlevy Development Company."

You readers know the answer. The American public is much like a flock of sheep. It can be stampeded in any direction that proves profitable to the strategists who manipulate the advertising.

And I'm not exaggerating. A few years ago a fad struck even the college campuses wherein students swallowed live gold fish.

Partly raids are a more recent variation of this mob hysteria. In fact, if you wished to spend a fair amount of money advertising the following new fad, you could soon get coeds to wear baby lizard, instead of orchids, on their evening gowns when they attended formal parties.

TANNED SKIN has simply been associated with athletic, outdoor men and also with the wealthy who can afford to vacation in Florida or California in winter.

So the thoughtless majority stampeded for sun tans. Actually, the big doses of ultra violet light from the sunshine are hazardous to health.

Heavy doses of sunshine cause peptic ulcers to flare up again and promote tuberculosis. They even predispose to a breakdown of the skin via cancer.

You get plenty of sunshine just as reflected light while sitting in the shade. And your hands and face alone absorb all you need even when you are fully clothed or wear a large hat or sit under a beach umbrella.

So beware of heavy tans! The tanning of the skin, anyway, is your body's last-ditch fight to protect you from the big doses of ultra violet light in sunshine.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
 A N Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

Here's a view of the old French Creek hotel in Chester county in the days when farmers used horses and carriages to get around on dirt roads. The French Creek section is one of the most historic in the Pottstown area. In the early 1700's, Samuel Nutt found iron along the French Creek. In 1719, he built a forge at Coventry, and the next year he built a new-type furnace, first in the section, along the French Creek.

Pittsburgh Mishap Tops 'Woman Driver' Stories

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 (AP)—Don't talk to Mrs. Catherine Ritson about unlucky motorists. She ran into her own car! Mrs. Ritson rented a small truck to pick up some articles. As she was driving near her home, a line of traffic stopped suddenly and her truck crashed into the auto ahead of her. It was Mrs. Ritson's car, driven by a sister, Mrs. Mary-McCarthy. Mrs. Ritson was slightly injured.

First Rhino Born In US Captivity Dies

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 (AP)—George Joe, reported by Pittsburgh zoo officials to have been the first rhinoceros ever born in captivity in the US died despite every effort to cure him of pneumonia. George Joe, who weighed in at two tons, had been on a steady diet of so-called miracle drugs the past few days. Zoo officials became alarmed a week ago when the rhino's breathing became labored and his daily portion of a couple of bushels of carrots, spinach and apples didn't interest him anymore. The favorite of thousands of Pittsburgh kiddies, George Joe was born in 1941 at Chicago's Brookfield zoo. His death left the Steel City zoo without a rhinoceros. Officials said they'll shop around for a pair and hope to have them on exhibition next Summer.

On that day Premier Imre Nagy spoke against "exaggerated industrialization" and promised Hungarians more food and consumer goods. How the Government modified the original, which was a law passed by parliament, was not disclosed.

Israel Will Make Own Appeal to UN

JERUSALEM, Israeli Section, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Israeli cabinet decided to make its own appeal to the United Nations Security Council concerning the latest murderous raids along the Israeli-Jordan border.

An official announcement said the cabinet would direct the council's attention to "violations of the armistice agreements by the Arab states and particularly the series of outrages and murders committed by Jordanians along the armistice line."

The United States, Britain and France asked the security council yesterday to take up the problem on an urgent basis and the council responded by ordering a meeting for tomorrow morning. Arab-Israeli relations appeared at their lowest ebb since the armistice in 1949.

Jordan claims 66 persons were killed by Israeli raiders last Wednesday night in an assault on three Jordan villages. Israeli newspapers contend the raid was in retaliation for the murder of an Israeli woman and two children by Jordanians earlier in the week.

Program Surpassed, Hungarians Declare

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Government's third quarter economic report said Hungary's industry had surpassed its "modified economic plan. It said the plan had been carried out 102.5 percent.

The Government revised its five-year plan targets in accordance with a "new course" policy proclaimed July 4.

On that day Premier Imre Nagy spoke against "exaggerated industrialization" and promised Hungarians more food and consumer goods.

How the Government modified the original, which was a law passed by parliament, was not disclosed.

Trade Action Doubtful, Nixon Tells Australians

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 19 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon said he couldn't predict what Congress would do about easing trade barriers on wool, meat and dairy products.

In a Nation-wide radio broadcast Nixon told trade-conscious Australians that trade restrictions are a "domestic political issue" in the United States.

Australian leaders are expected to make the question of trade restrictions a major point when they discuss Australian-American questions in a meeting at Canberra Tuesday.

Low Teachers' Pay Shocks Brownell

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said he was shocked by some recent statistics on school teachers' salaries in some parts of the country. He said messengers in the Justice department are paid more in many instances.

"No wonder," he said, "that teaching profession does not have the full attraction for the youth who might otherwise adopt it as a life-time career."

The attorney general discussed the importance of the school in the prevention of juvenile delinquency in an address prepared for the dedication of a new campus at New Haven State Teachers College.

His brother, Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, president of the college since 1947, was named by President Eisenhower the past week as the new US commissioner of education.

Just Like Old Times

McKESPORT, Oct. 19 (AP)—It was just like old times when Edward Darling, a Pittsburgh tavern owner, walked up the front steps of his home.

Two armed men greeted Darling, he told police. They relieved him of all his cash, then forced him inside and punctuated their demands for more money by slapping him frequently. Two relatives ran to his aid and were stripped of their jewelry and cash. The total loot amounted to $430, Darling sadly told police. That was even worse than Dec. 5, 1952, when he was robbed of $2150 under identical circumstances.

Youth 'Playfully' Draws Gun, Kills Companion

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 19 (AP)—Police said a 20-year-old Dayton youth "playfully" drew a .38 caliber revolver from the glove compartment of his car and shot to death his 16-year-old companion. The bullet fired by William Ross severed blood vessels near the heart of Kenneth Shields, a high school football player, while Ross' car was being driven by a third youth through downtown Dayton. Ross, who apparently didn't know the gun was loaded, was not held.

CONSTIPATED?

Here's happy news for constipation sufferers from James J. Driscoll, 2nd of Connellsville, Pa.

"I never imagined I could get such blessed, fast relief from constipation as I do now. I used to suffer terribly from constipation—go most of the day before I got any sort of relief. "But that was before I learned about Sal Hepatica's gentle, speedy action. It's wonderful. If I take it before breakfast, I get relief usually within an hour!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again... usually within an hour. Or, take it in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

Tomatoes Thrown At Resident's Home Break Panes of Glass

Halloween vandalism in Pottstown, which includes early morning explosions of cherry bombs and big firecrackers and the theft of rugs from washlines now includes the bombardment of windows with rotten tomatoes.

Latest victim of vandalism is Edward M. Curry, 929 Queen street, who has reported a broken front window in his home.

The window was the target of tomato-slinging vandals.

Curry, who reported the incident to police, repaired the window yesterday.

He said last night, "The police told me to produce the offenders and they would prosecute."

Tomatoes were heaved on neighborhood porches along Queen street.

The window was broken between 8 and 9 p. m. Sunday.

Last Friday night a Penn Village woman reported the theft of throw rugs from her washline and early Friday morning four youths were arrested for exploding firecrackers on borough streets.

Jeffersonville and Paoli State police have issued warnings against vandalism.

night, "We want to know just what is required of the fire companies at the dump. We want to go over the contract and see that everything is straightened out."

Chief Robert Roth of the Good Will Fire company said, "I'll tell the same thing I told council the past Monday."

Roth charged Woodley with lack of responsibility and co-operation.

Chairman John S. Frain of health and sanitation committee said, "We will try to work out a plan which will fit in with the present contract. If we provide the equipment to handle fires as stipulated in the contract, then it will be the responsibility of the garbage collector to maintain the dump."

J. Wayne Knause, chairman of finance committee, is expected to ask for a thorough investigation into the possibility of replacing the dump with an incinerator.

Woodley asserted, "I've got nothing to complain about."

Firemen have complained bitterly about fighting the rats and roaches on the dump.

Housewives have complained about the soot and smoke menace, and employees in East End industries have charged the borough with negligence to permit the dump menace to develop.

right." He was plummeted from his wooden seat and broke his neck in the fall, she asserted.

"He would have drowned if it hadn't been for the other fellows," Mrs. Hafer said, "because he couldn't get out."

"He was conscious the whole time," his mother continued. "He said he had the funniest feeling come over him. They brought a preacher right there because they didn't expect him to live. I guess he didn't think he'd live either."

"Then the preacher preached this sermon, and it lifted him up, and made him feel a lot better. His spirit is good now. He says, 'Oh, don't worry—I'll be all right again.'"

The accident happened at Larsen Air Force base, near Seattle, Wash. He is being flown to Walter Reed hospital for specialized treatment.

His father, a tire builder for Firestone Tire and Rubber company, flew out to Seattle the day after the family learned of the accident and was at his bedside in Madigan hospital, near Seattle, almost constantly until arrangements for the flight to Walter Reed were completed.

The son, in addition to being paralyzed from the waist down, has his head and neck in a complex brace.

HIS MOTHER said that after it was discovered he had a broken neck, he was flown to Madigan hospital in 17 minutes.

Mrs. Hafer said she was not clear as to the nature of the carnival, except that it was to raise funds for activities on the base.

Her son joined the Air Force three years ago. Before that, he had worked for Doehler-Jarvis division.

Earlier this year, the family had lived at 451 West High street, Stowe. Sergeant Hafer had attended West Pottsgrove High school.

He is the oldest of five children.

diminishing until finally they're all gone.

"Just when they get around to demolition of the other buildings is indefinite. It's all a matter of when they'll get the ball rolling, but the deadline will be met without question."

At Hilldale's wartime peak, some 300 families were housed in the project. This total was cut in half by the past March, and on August 1 was down to 81 families, and dipped further to the present 51 families.

HAZY SKIES greeted early risers yesterday, leading some to remark that it was the result of smoke and dust in the atmosphere, mixed with some fog.

That there is plenty of dust around is not surprising. It hasn't rained since Oct. 7, when moderate showers failed to soak the drought-parched earth.

There will be some cloudiness today along with the expected record high. Tomorrow will be fair and warm.

Borough's Warmest Oct. 19 Since 1945 Greets Residents

It was another perfect day—warm and dry—in the Pottstown area yesterday.

In fact, it was the warmest Oct. 19 since 1945.

Yesterday's high was 76, warm enough to bring men outdoors in shirtsleeves and open collars.

Girls on High street took advantage of the warmth and paraded in Summer dresses before putting them away for the winter.

Of course, yesterday didn't come so close to breaking the 1945 record of 83 degrees, but look out for today!

The forecast is for a high of 82 today. That would break a 17-year record. It was 80 on Oct. 20, 1936.

HAZY SKIES greeted early risers yesterday, leading some to remark that it was the result of smoke and dust in the atmosphere, mixed with some fog.

That there is plenty of dust around is not surprising. It hasn't rained since Oct. 7, when moderate showers failed to soak the drought-parched earth.

Watch Out for 1954 Warn The Great Prophecies

A strange man in Los Angeles, plied so that they can be used by known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge intelligence.

The 64-page book he is now offering free to the public offers world prophecies covering these times. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But they are due. He believes everyone should prepare at once for the fateful crisis. Thus many people will avoid catastrophe.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well-known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simple.

For your free copy of the astounding prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page book, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. H-250, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No form filling. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Affection Is Good Medicine, Professor Says

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE (Associated Press Writer)

If parents give their children what they need emotionally as well as physically, there is no need to be fearful about how they will grow up.

Dr. Frank E. Coburn, associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Iowa, gave this advice to parents of children attending a speech clinic there.

Dr. Coburn explained that children have a tendency to grow up healthily mentally as well as physically, pointing out:

"We need not be fearful over those physical illnesses which we can control by inoculation, proper diet, sleep and clothing. Some physical illnesses such as certain infections we cannot prevent, but there is no use to disturb our lives about them. The thing to do is get adequate treatment."

Parents need to meet their children's needs for love, affection, tolerance, understanding, discipline, a chance to express their resentment and the opportunity to grow up and become independent of their parents, Dr. Coburn said.

He explained:

"Almost all parents love their children, but some parents do not get this fact across to them. It is important that the child know he is loved by his parents. His major verbal contact with his parents should not be during criticism only."

"We need to go out of our way to praise our children when they do well. Sometimes we can set up tasks for the child to do for which praise can be given easily, but we should remember not to expect adult achievement."

Discipline can actually be an expression of parental affection, Dr. Coburn said, since setting limits on the child's behavior makes him feel more comfortable and secure.

It is important to ask of children only what is really necessary and then be consistent in seeing that it is carried out, he said. Punishment, when necessary, should fit the "crime," he continued, and should be of short enough duration that the child is reassured promptly that he is still loved.

Dr. Coburn advised parents to avoid condemning their child's personality, but explained that it is all right to find fault with a specific element in the child's behavior. He said:

"To tell the child he is 'bad' gives him no guide for improvement, but criticism of specific behavior suggests something specific for him to do about it."

Though every child probably hates his parents at times, this does not mean that he fails to love them deeply. The parent should be big enough to let his children express some of this natural resentment, Dr. Coburn said. He explained:

"Actually we're making little liars and hypocrites out of them if we make them behave 'nice' to us when they feel ' nasty'."

To be sure that children will become independent adults, parents gradually must give them more and more responsibility, withdrawing parental supervision as rapidly as the child is able to demonstrate good judgment.

A proper starching will keep your cottons and linens looking fresh between wash days. Best way is to make a paste of a quarter cup each of dry starch and cold water, then add one cake of wax-like ironing aid. Pour in a quart of boiling water, stirring until the cake dissolves. Dilute according to your needs.

After Excitement of Football Game, Treat Guests to Meal Featuring Chili Con Carne

Crisp, bright weather, the excitement of that final touchdown, the gaiety of stadium crowds on an autumn Saturday—these are as much a part of Fall as the fragrance of burning leaves.

And, after the games, there's more fun to follow when you take your own crowd home for supper.

Even if the home team loses, nobody will mind too much as long as there's the prospect of a delicious hot supper in the offing. Nothing could be more welcome to your chilled-to-the-bone guests than piping hot chili con carne pie.

With the chili pie as the center of the meal, you won't need much to round out the menu. Corn bread, green salad, your favorite pie and steaming coffee complete a truly heart-warming supper.

Chili Con Carne Pie

1 pound lean beef, ground.
2 tablespoons fat or salad oil.
1½ teaspoons salt.
½ teaspoon pepper.
1 to 2 tablespoons chili powder.
1 garlic clove, minced.
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce.
½ cup hot water.
2 cans kidney beans.
1 4-ounce package salty corn chips.
1 medium onion finely chopped.
½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese.
Cook meat in fat or salad oil stirring occasionally with a fork until browned and crumbly. Add salt, pepper, chili powder and garlic.
Stir in tomato sauce, water and kidney beans. Simmer until thick.

Braised Cuts of Beef Are Flavorful, Tender

Want to know how to braise those lean cuts of beef so they'll have good flavor and be tender? Brown the meat thoroughly in a small amount of fat, then add a small amount of liquid and cook very slowly, covering the utensil tightly.

Add seasonings to taste — a bay leaf, peppercorns, a whole clove or two, a stalk of celery, sliced onion, carrot strips. When the meat is really tender, strain the gravy in the pan, reheat and serve with the beef.

THIS LITTLE girl frightened all her schoolmates at West Pottsgrove school yesterday morning by passing out while playing shortly before noon.

She's Mary Ann Razmylowski, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Razmylowski, 567 Howard street, Stowe, and is here being checked at Pottstown hospital.

—Mercury Staff Photo
Her doctor last night said the girl's condition was "good" but that she still was under observation.

Pottstown Woman In 'Good' Condition Following Accident

A Pottstown woman, injured in a two-car accident along High street early yesterday afternoon, said last night from her Memorial hospital bed that she felt "a little rough."

Mrs. Miriam Sopha, 35, of 858 Logan street, said she stopped in front of the 156 High street store of Harry W. Overholtzer to make a left turn.

She explained she had her left turn signal blinking and was hand-signaling when she was struck from the rear by a car driven by Catherine Endy, 38, of 1207 Beech street.

Although the front seat was broken and her little son was tossed into the back seat, he came out of the accident unscathed.

Mr. and Mrs. Overholtzer rushed Mrs. Sopha to the hospital. She was admitted for observation.

A hospital spokesman reported her condition was "good."

Miss Endy was treated at the hospital for nose and face injuries.

who would handle examinations and all costs of the program would be financed by the county ($5 per examination and $15 for each appearance in court).

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden has written to the president of the county association and requested his co-operation on the program.

Pottstown has been without a police physician or any responsible system to examine drunken drivers for the past five years.

Not since the resignation of Dr. Harry K. Marcy Jr. has there been a police physician in the borough.

The burgess explained, "Certainly I'm willing to go along with the program. I'm willing to go for any program which will improve the situation."

ON THE PARKING BAN along North Franklin street from High to Beech streets, the burgess said the law could not be enforced until the signs are erected.

He said he did not know when the signs would be erected.

Griffith broke a tie vote in council this past Sept. 14 which put the disputed ordinance on the books.

Police committee recommended the ordinance because of "wreck-fender row," a line of old trees which have grown over the curbing and have caused numerous accidents along the narrow street in past years.

The burgess, who heads the police department, will be in charge of enforcing the ordinance and the construction of the proper signs so that the law can be legally binding.

A spokesman for the borough highway department said the signs along North Franklin street probably will be constructed this week, weather permitting.

Nine parking meters in the new restricted zone have been removed and re-installed along Apple street, between Franklin and Evans streets, along with four other meters.

pointed secretary of the board for a number of years.

ADDING to the political unrest in South Coventry are charges by Constable Howard G. Seibold that the board ignored a money bill he submitted for working nearly three hours on an accident this past Spring, and that Robert R. Conway, township police officer is serving warrants that Seibold as an elected officer should serve.

Seibold charged last night, "I was called out on an accident this past Spring by a township resident who told me the electric company needed my service."

"I went out on the job for nearly three hours. It was impossible to get Conway at the time."

Seibold, after submitting the $3.13 for 2½ hours work, received the following letter from Loomis:

"Dear Howard, I received the bill you sent for services rendered to the South Coventry township on April 11. This bill should have been mailed or handed to our secretary, Mr. William S. Symons, and to whom I have given the same."

"What action the road board will take I do not know, however, I would suggest that you come to our meeting on Monday evening, May 4, which will be held at the South Coventry school, to answer any question which the board may ask."

Seibold received a subsequent letter from Symons which read, "Dear Sir, Your bill mailed to the amount of $3.13 for services on April 11, 1953, at Bucktown, was presented to the board and upon investigation by the board, it was denied by the electric company that they called you out."

"The township police officer was available and as he was not called as he should have been, the board would not approve your bill."

Seibold angrily asserted, "I don't care about $3.13. It's the principle of the thing. People of South Coventry know that I have done many things in my years as constable free of charge."

"It seems mighty funny to me that I can do a lot of work for Dan Gudin (Chief Daniel W. Gudin) in North Coventry and don't get any work in my own township, while Conway, who lives in Norco can come over in our township and serve as township officer."

"I never complained about Conway. But I understand he was named by the board to patrol township highways."

CONWAY, a watchman at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, also serves as a part-time officer in Elverson.

When the road board appointed him to the job more than a year ago, they refused to release his name.

It was pointed out at the time they didn't want too many persons in the township to know he was on patrol. They said they wanted to crackdown on traffic violators.

The most common complaint against the South Coventry officer is his policy of hauling motorists, arrested on summary charges, immediately before a justice of the peace.

Several days after Conway was named to his new post, Symons told The Mercury he did not wish to release information on traffic violators, because, the fact that they were arrested was enough, without getting additional publicity.

John Waycock, 373 South street, picked up the third cash prize of $2 with a tip on an accident on Route 422 in which five persons were injured.

Steven J. Rozsas Jr., 320

North Charlotte street, was awarded one of the bonus cash prizes for his tip on the layoffs at Jacobs Aircraft Engine plant. Once again, a tip made it possible for The Mercury to be there first with the most about a story.

The death of a highway worker from burns in Pine Forge was the tip that gave Brooke Fritz, Pine Forge, another of the cash awards.

If you have a tip, don't hesitate. Call 6000 (Mercury switchboard) and say "Newstip." It'll take only a minute of your time and may pay off in cash for you.

COHILL SOUNDS —

Fund's operation here. The goal this year is 24 percent higher than the $146,000 collected the past year, but 10 percent lower than the goal then was.

Cohill was chairman of a United Fund drive in Akron which went over the top in a goal which exceeded two million dollars.

The guest speaker emphasized the fact that "while we are only individuals, if we have a good idea and can sell that idea to others, we can accomplish wonders."

"Let's make this a happy campaign and get into the enthusiasm of giving," he said.

Cohill stressed the point that expenses for the United Fund drive earning, the looser the living in many cases, and the greater amount of broken homes, uncared for children and generally needy persons," he explained.

BARTHOLOMEW said at the start of the dinner talks that "there is a sense of satisfaction out of doing things for others."

"To the extent that we succeed in imbuing people with that sense, is the extent we will be successful in this drive," he said.

He complimented Wylie and Keiser for their "terrific work" and described them as "experienced campaigners who won't take no for an answer and know how to ask for enough."

Bartholomew also had a word of praise for Vinicio Fisher, executive secretary of the fund.

"Vin does all the work, but we take the credit," he quipped.

Introduced at the head table were:

Ernest T. Handley, one of the 27 fund directors; Douglas V. O'Dell, president of the fund; Roger Firestone, one of the directors from the Firestone company, and the Rev. Maurice E. Hoover, pastor of Searles Methodist church, who gave the invocation.

FOUR MAJOR groupings have been decided upon to simplify the solicitations. The categories, and their chairmen who also were introduced at the dinner are:

O. C. Bearcraft, townships; Robert E. Jeffries, industrial; Mrs. Melvin Feroe and Mrs. Samuel Keiser, residential, and Thomas A. McCaslin 3d and Benjamin A. Longaker, classified.

Colorful campaign posters by Pottstown High school pupils were displayed on one wall and featured such slogans as:

"If you care enough, give enough"; "Everybody gives—everybody benefits"; "Put all your eggs in one ask it".

Kenneth Nichols was master of ceremonies at the dinner. The Ray Elliot Ensemble provided dinner music through the courtesy of the local American Federation of Musicians.

The Manthorne players, a local group, presented a skit dramatizing the need for giving to the United Fund.

Table decorations were by the Junior Service league.

Special Drive Set For UF Tonight

A special one-night solicitation in the South Pottstown-Hanover Heights section tonight will mark the United Fund campaign in that area.

O. C. Bearcraft, chairman of the Fund's Township division, said the solicitations would be conducted from 6 to 8 p. m. A similar one-night stand will be held in West Pottsgrove Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Earle Christman and Frank Pachik are co-chairmen of the South Pottstown-Hanover Heights drive. James T. Jones and Charles J. Kazmerovitz are co-chairmen of the West Pottsgrove campaign.
